THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Moy Castle, Mull comprises a castle consisting of a tower-house 10.7m square and 17.5m high with the remains of an irregular barmkin on the SE and rock-cut ditch on the NW; it stands on a low rock platform at the head of Loch Buie. The surviving fabric is early 15th century though additions and alterations were made particularly to the upper works prior to abandonment in 1752. The tower has 3 main stories and a garret, with 2 entresol floors built over the haunches of the barrel-vaults covering the ground and first floors, and remains of two 16th-century cap-houses. Numerous architectural details survive including original battlements and crenellations, and corbelled latrine-chutes. The area to be scheduled includes the tower, barmkin and boat landing contained within an area bounded to the N by the road and on the W and S by the shoreline, measuring 115m NNW-SSE by 70m ENE-WSW. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Torsay and the County of Argyll as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Secretary of State for Scotland to be of national importance compiled and maintained by him under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Given under the Seal of the Secretary of State for Scotland.
