The Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979

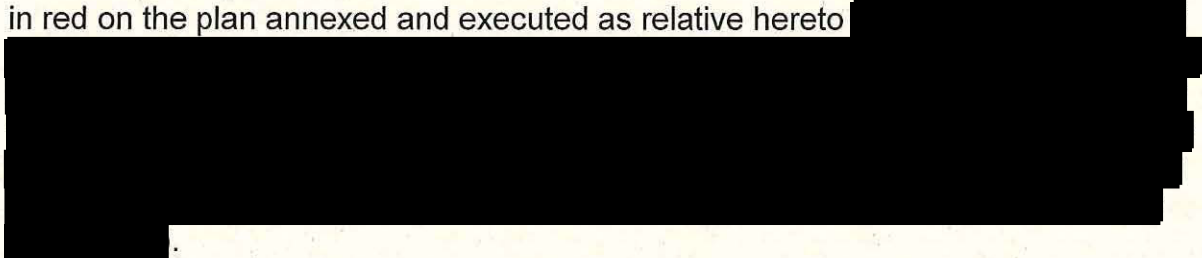

Amended entry in the schedule of monuments

Historic Environment Scotland in exercise of the powers conferred on it by section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979 hereby amends the entry in the statutory schedule of monuments as set out below.

The monument known as The Hillock Broch, Finstown comprises the remains of a large broch mound and its outworks dating probably to the Iron Age (between around 600 BC and AD 400). It survives as an elongated turf-covered mound with earthworks to its immediate N and S and buried remains to its N and W. The broch is located at the mouth of The Ouse, on the W shore of the Bay of Firth in Mainland Orkney.

The scheduled area comprises two irregular shapes to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. The scheduling excludes the above-ground remains of all modern boundary features to allow for their maintenance.

The monument, which lies in the Parish of Firth and the County of Orkney as shown in red on the plan annexed and executed as relative hereto

This entry supersedes the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as the Broch at the Hillock as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by the Commissioners of His Majesty's Works and Public Buildings in respect of the monument dated 7 January 1938 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Orkney and Zetland on 7 April 1938.
