The Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979

Amended entry in the schedule of monuments

Historic Environment Scotland in exercise of the powers conferred on it by section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979 hereby amends the entry in the statutory schedule of monuments as set out below.

The monument known as Cowbakie Hill, enclosure 220m NNE of 12 Forgan Drive comprises a palisaded enclosure of prehistoric date (earlier than AD 400). The remains lie buried beneath the topsoil and are visible as cropmarks captured on oblique aerial photographs. The enclosure is sub-circular in shape, defined by a ditch that encloses an area measuring about 45m SW-NE by at least 30m transversely. The enclosing ditch is clearly visible on the SW, NW and NE sides but the extent of the enclosure to the SE is not known. A possible break in the NW side may indicate an entrance. Several pits lie within the interior of the enclosure: cremated human bone was recovered from one of these during archaeological evaluation. The monument lies to the S of Cowbakie Hill on a SE-facing slope, overlooked by rising ground to the N. It stands at around 20m above sea level.

The scheduled area is irregular on plan to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive.

The monument, which lies in the Parish of Leuchars and the County of Fife as shown in red on the plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted]

This entry supersedes the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Vicarsford Cemetery, enclosure 600m SE of as referred to in the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments by the Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 9 January 1998 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Fife on 3 December 1998.
