The Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979

Amended entry in the schedule of monuments

Historic Environment Scotland in exercise of the powers conferred on it by section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979 hereby amends the entry in the statutory schedule of monuments as set out below.

The monument known as Crooked Stone, standing stone 225m N of Crookedstone comprises a standing stone of unknown date: either prehistoric (late third or second millennium BC) or medieval (c AD 600-1400). It stands approximately 1.8m high and is roughly 0.35m square in cross-section at the base, tapering to 0.3m wide by 0.2m thick at the top. The stone is situated on undulating arable land to the S of the Powforth Burn, a tributary of the Avon Water and River Clyde. It stands about 170m above sea level with extensive views to the E and NE.

The scheduled area is circular on plan, 10m in diameter, centred on the stone. The scheduled area includes the stone described above and an area around it in which evidence for the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive.

The monument, which lies in the Parish of Hamilton and the County of Lanark as shown in red on the plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted]

This entry supersedes the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Standing Stone 400m south-east of North Crooked Stone as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by the Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 27 December 1979 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Lanark on 22 February 1980.
