The Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979

Amended entry in the schedule of monuments

Historic Environment Scotland in exercise of the powers conferred on it by section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979 hereby amends the entry in the statutory schedule of monuments as set out below.

The monument known as Coatshill Quarry to Holehouse Linn, Roman Road comprises the remains of a 5.5km stretch of Roman road probably dating to the late first or early second centuries AD. The monument is located on the east side of Annandale, north of Moffat and is visible as a slight and intermittent linear earthwork aligned north northwest for most of its length before the road turns northwards at approximately 4km from its south end.

The scheduled area is irregular on plan, to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. The scheduled area specifically excludes the top 300mm of modern prepared surfaces along with the above-ground remains of all modern boundary features to allow for their upkeep and maintenance.

The monument, which lies in the Parish of Kirkpatrick-Juxta and the County of Dumfries as shown in red on the plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted]
