The Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979

Addition to the schedule of monuments

Historic Environment Scotland in exercise of the powers conferred on it by section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979 hereby adds to the statutory schedule of monuments as set out below.

The monument known as Whitegate Broch comprises a broch, a complex stone-built substantial roundhouse, dating from the Iron Age (between 600BC and 400AD). The broch is visible as the exposed foundations of a solid based stone-built roundhouse. The broch is located on a flat raised beach overlooking Sinclair's Bay.

The scheduled area is circular in plan, measuring 40m in diameter, to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive, and adjoining land essential for the monument's support and preservation. The scheduling specifically excludes the above ground elements of the dry-stone wall and post-and-wire fence, to allow for their maintenance and upkeep.

The monument, which lies in the Parish of Wick and the County of Caithness as shown in red on the plan annexed and executed as relative hereto.
