THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 117
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Corogle, standing stones and stone circle 950m WNW of Corriehead comprises a stone circle and an alignment of standing stones dating probably from the late Neolithic to Bronze Age (late third to second millennium BC). The stone circle is approximately 10m in diameter and formed of at least five rough boulders. Approximately 20m to the SSW, and in line with the two largest stones in the circle, are a further two monoliths, both now prostate and both around 2.2m long and 0.5m wide. A smaller stone with quartz veins is situated approximately 8m to the SSW in line with the others and is likely to be part of the same complex. The monument is located on the floor of the valley through which the Burn of Corogle runs, at about 290m above sea level. The scheduled area is irregular on plan to include the stones described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's erection and use is expected to survive. The scheduling excludes the top 400mm of the road surface to allow for its maintenance. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Kingoldrum and the County of Angus as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes 1) the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Two standing stones and stone circle as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by the Commissioners of HM Works and Public Buildings in respect of the monument dated 26 September 1935 and 2) the Amended Entry in the Schedule of Monuments in respect of the monument dated 23 February 1996 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Angus on 27 March 1996.

Subscribed by Olwyn A Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 19th day of November Two thousand and Fourteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
