THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 225
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Poltalloch, three cists 320m S of Cnoc-an-teallaidh comprises the remains of three prehistoric burial cists (stone-lined graves) likely to date from the Bronze Age, sometime between about 2000 BC and 800 BC. This group of three cists survives in rough pasture at 20m above sea level on the W flank of Kilmartin Glen. They overlook the funerary and ceremonial complex of prehistoric monuments that survives on the lower-lying ground of the glen. The area to be scheduled is circular on plan, measuring 20m in diameter, to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment may survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Kilmartin and the County of Argyll as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto and which forms part of [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Three cists ½ mile NE of Poltalloch as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by the Commissioners of HM Works and Public Buildings in respect of the monument dated 16 November 1933 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Argyll on 20 December 1933.

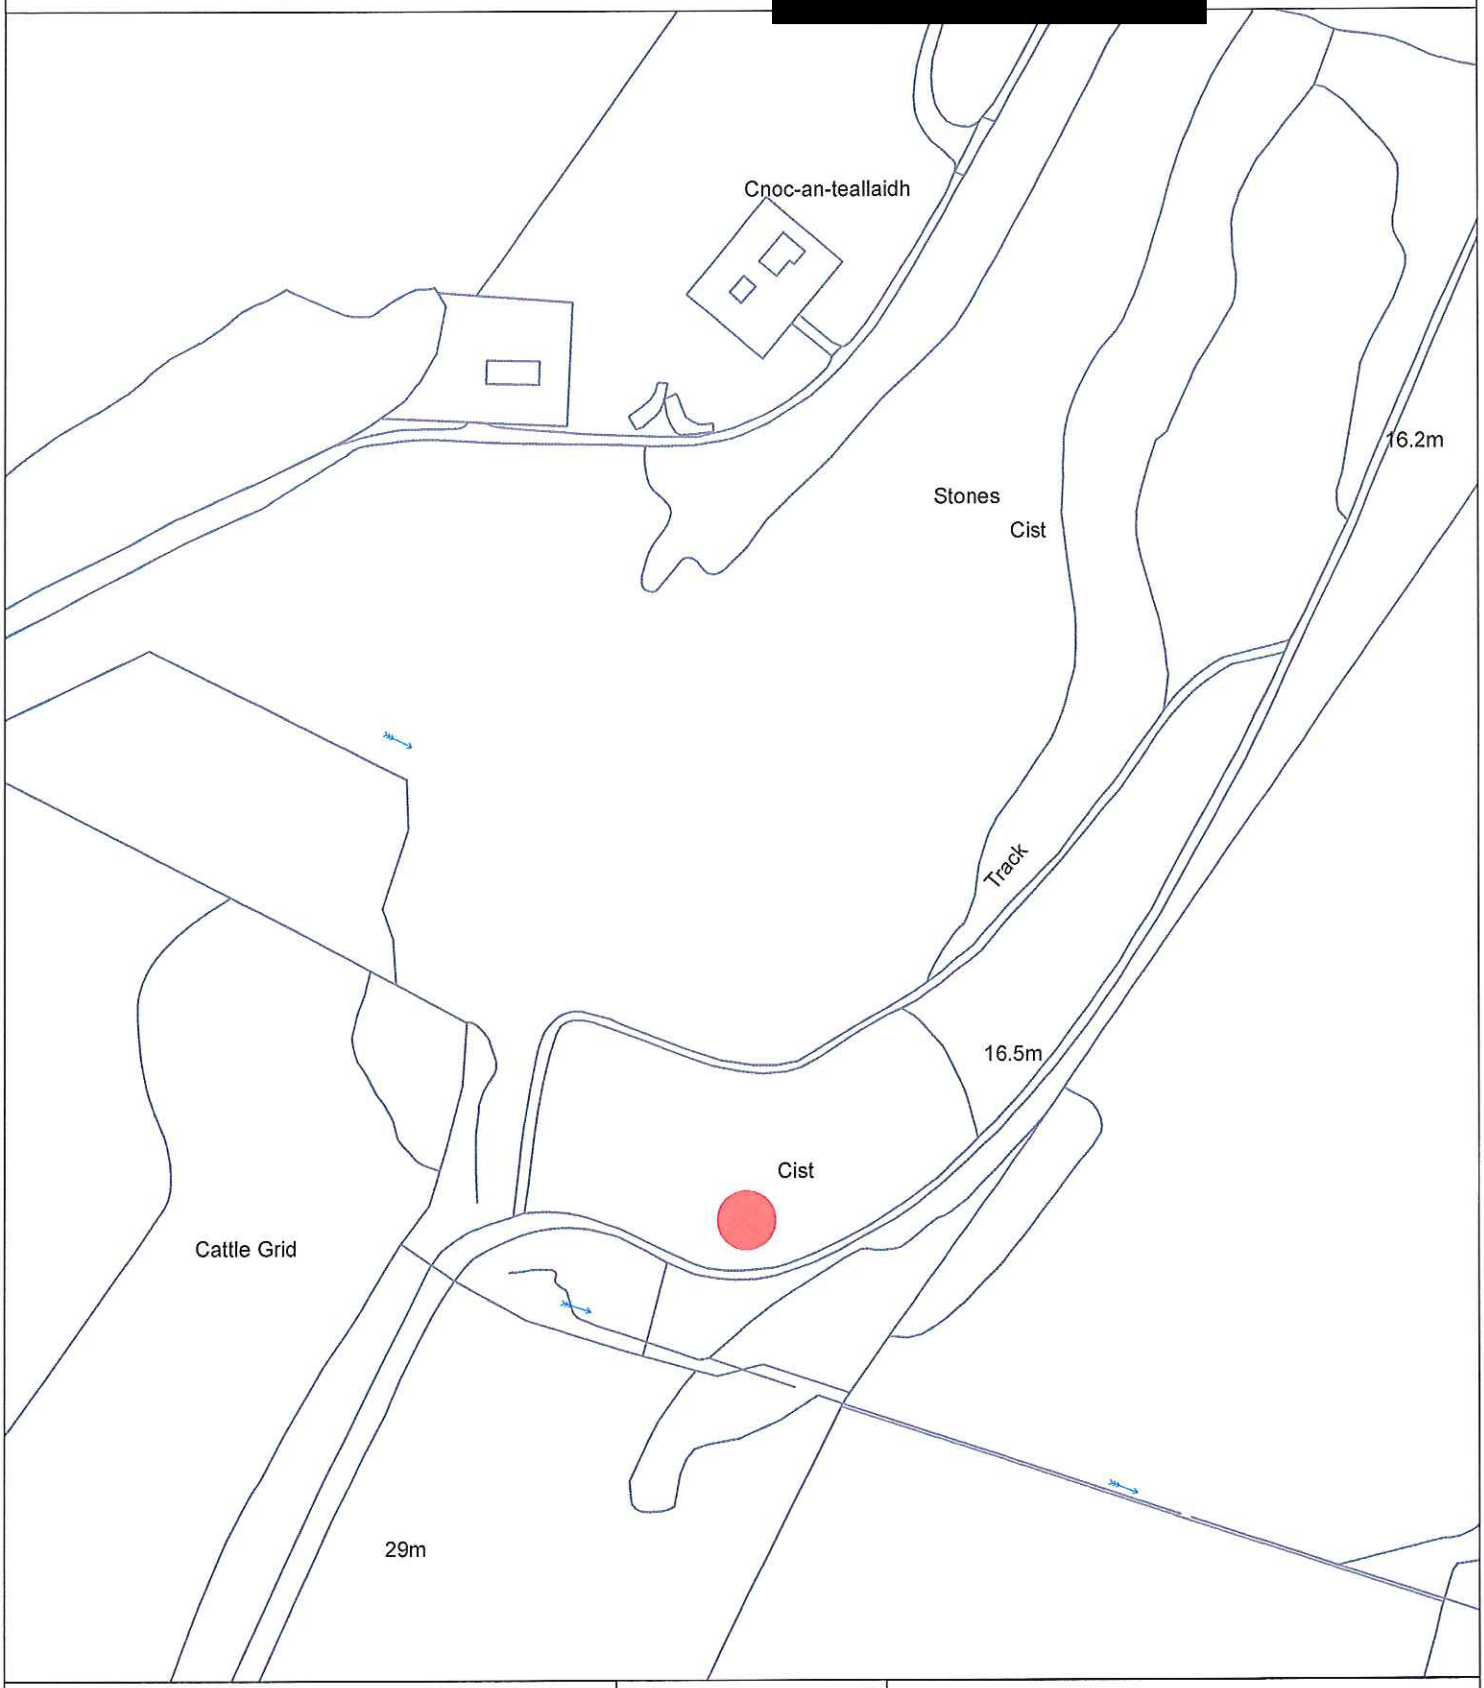

Subscribed by Olwyn Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 19th day of March Two thousand and thirteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
