The monument known as Kilfinan Church, carved stones and burial ground, comprises the graveyard around Kilfinan Church, which has an extensive and varied collection of medieval sculptured stones, the Early Christian, medieval and post-Reformation stones and an area within which evidence relating to the early church would be expected to be found. The area to be scheduled comprises the area of the churchyard closest to Kilfinan church and the carved stones within the Lamont Aisle. It is irregular with maximum external dimensions of 37m due N-S and 60m due E-W. The scheduled area has an area excluded from its interior, the footprint of the modern church, which is specifically excluded from the scheduling. Also excluded, are the mural monuments within the Lamont Aisle. In the graveyard, the top 30cm of the make-up of all paths and tracks is excluded from the scheduling. Any burial lairs which are still active are also excluded from the scheduling. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Kilfinan and the County of Argyll as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Sheenagh Adams, Director of Heritage Policy with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 23rd day of December Two thousand and four, before this witness Lesley Macdonald, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
