THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Carn Liath, cairn, Shurrery comprises a prehistoric burial cairn immediately adjacent to the Forss Water. The cairn is substantial, measuring about 32m by 18m and standing up to 2m tall. On the visible evidence, it is impossible to determine which sub-class of cairns it belongs to, but its size suggests it is a chambered tomb of Neolithic date. The area to be scheduled is a circle 50m in diameter centred on the mid-point of the cairn, but excluding that portion of the circle occupied by the Forss Water. This area includes the cairn and an area around it, in which the cairn and associated remains are likely to extend below ground level. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Reay and the County of Caithness as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Frank James Lawrie, Director of Heritage Policy with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 26th day of July Two thousand and one, before this witness Lesley Macdonald, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
