THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Tota an Dranndain, broch, Shurrery comprises the remains of a broch, a fortified dwelling of Iron Age date, together with the remains of associated structures and outer defences. The broch survives as a large mound, largely grass-grown but showing sufficient structural detail to discern an overall diameter of 17m and an internal diameter of 9m. It stands over 1.5m high. The area to be scheduled is a circle 60m in diameter, to include the broch, the outer works and an area around, within which evidence of the broch's construction and use is likely to survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Reay and the County of Caithness as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Frank James Lawrie, Director of Heritage Policy with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 26th day of July Two thousand and one, before this witness Lesley Macdonald, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
