THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 668
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Gilnockie Roman Camp, 300m SW of Woodhead comprises the remains of a Roman camp built between AD 71 and AD 410. The monument is visible as upstanding earthworks, including well-preserved sections of the rampart and defensive ditch. The camp is located close to the E bank of the River Esk, about 1km NE of the river. It stands between 90m and 105m above sea level on a SW-facing slope, with its long sides bounded by tributaries of the Esk. The scheduled area is irregular on plan, to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. The scheduling specifically excludes the above-ground elements of all post-and-wire fences. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Canonbie and the County of Dumfries as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Earthwork (Gilnockie Camp) situated 600yds. West of Claygate, Canonbie as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by The Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 7 July 1972 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Dumfries on 20 July 1972.

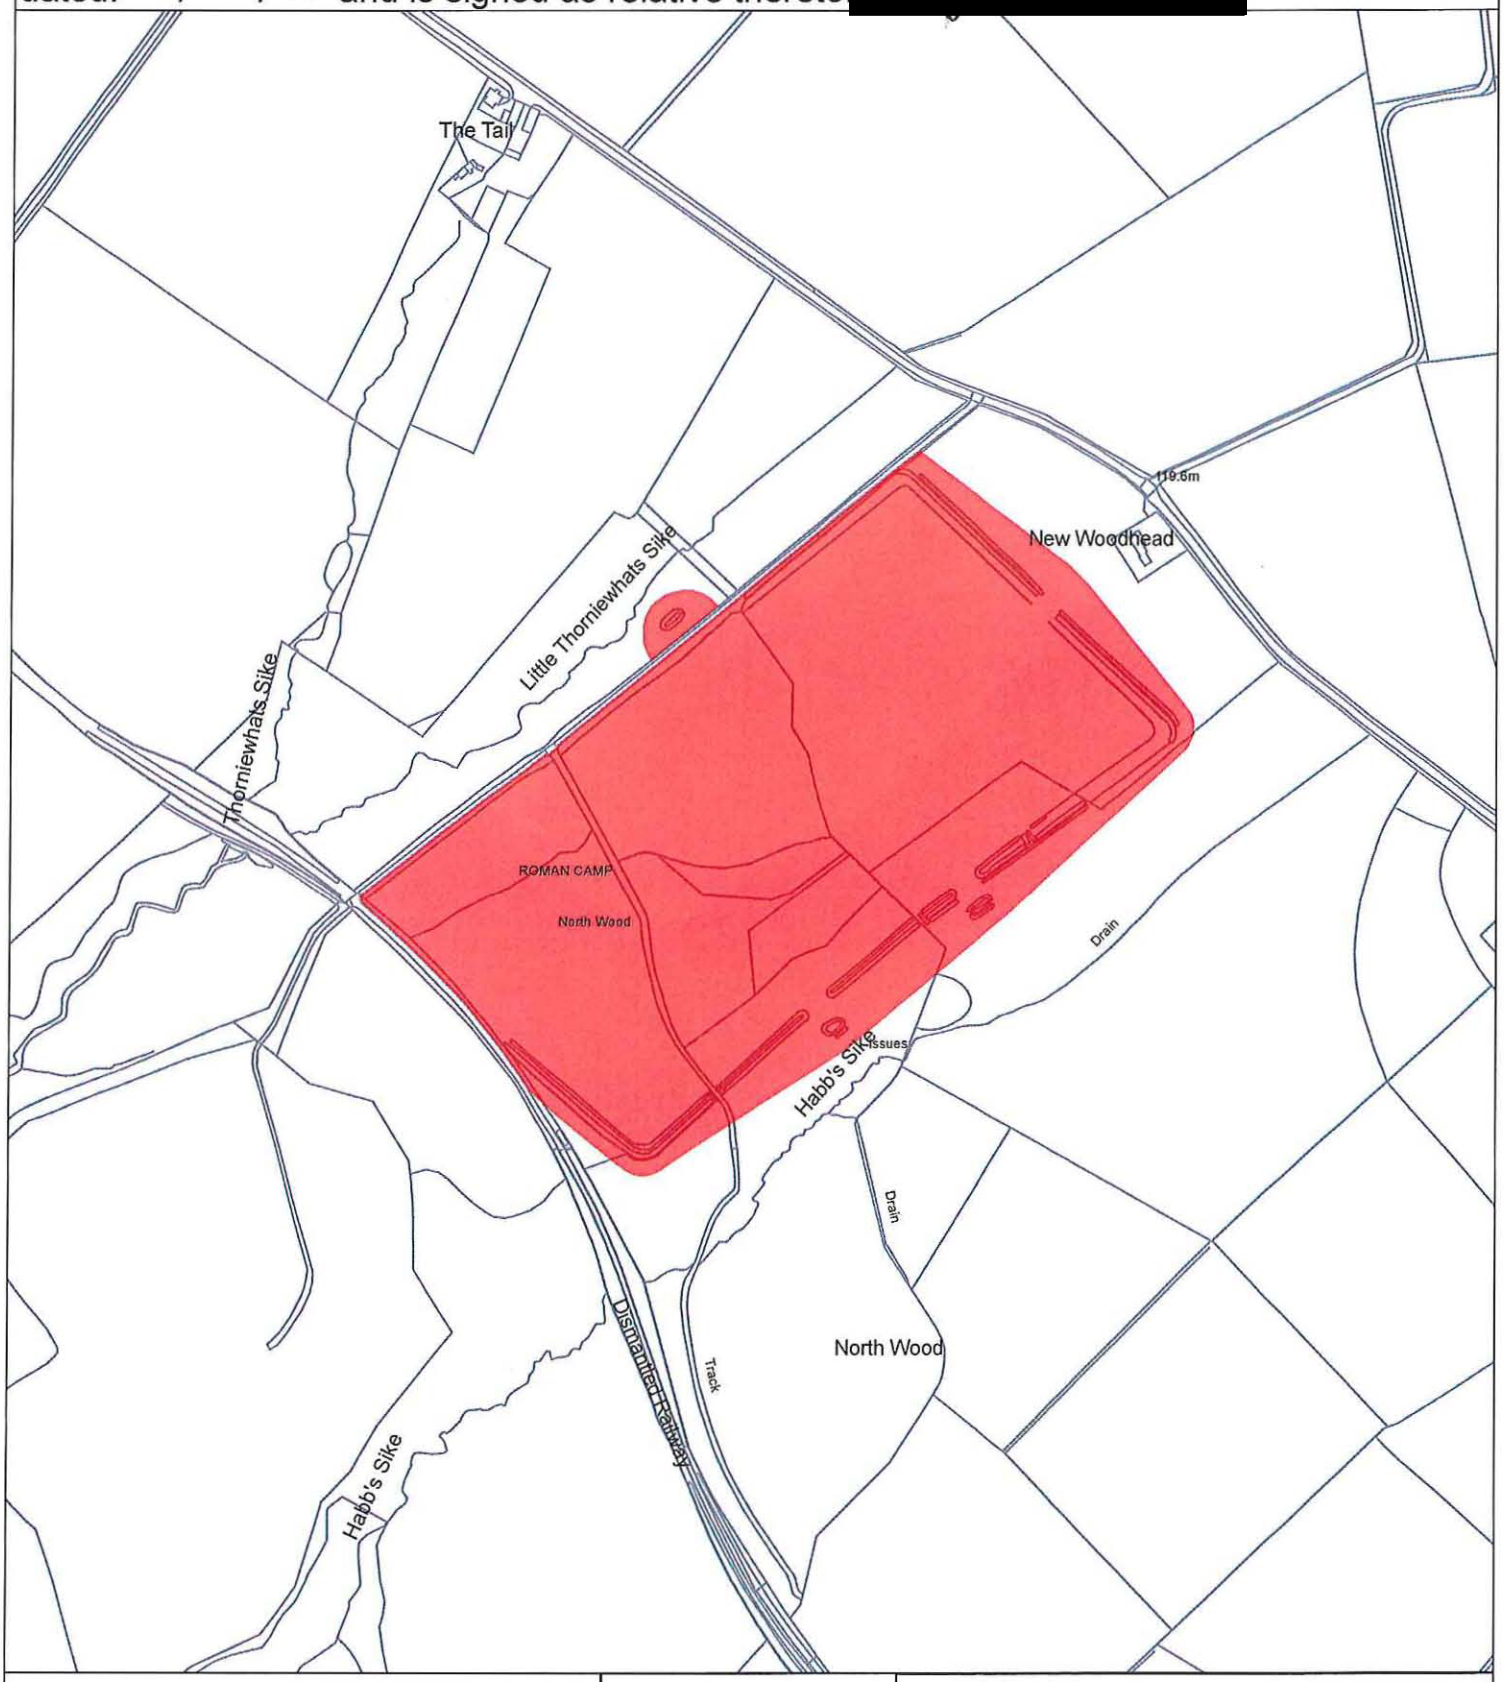

Subscribed by Olwyn A Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 28th day of November Two thousand and thirteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
