THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Slewcairn, two cairns comprises the remains of two circular cairns, funerary monuments dating from the Early Bronze Age period (c.2000-1500 BC). The cairns lie at around 220m and 240m OD respectively, on a S to SW-facing hillslope looking down the valley of the Boreland Burn towards the Solway Firth. The cairns are both approximately 10m in diameter and stand around 1m high. They are approximately 120m apart, aligned on a NE-SW axis, and would have been clearly intervisible before modern forestry planting. The area to be scheduled consists of two circular areas which comprise the remains described, and an area around them within which related material may be expected to survive. Both areas are circular, each with a diameter of 30m centred on the cairns. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Colvend and Southwick and the County of the Stewartry of Kirkcudbright as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Frank James Lawrie, Director of Heritage Policy with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 23rd day of January Two thousand and two, before this witness Lesley Macdonald, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
