THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Camphill Cottage, fort or homestead moat, Whinnieliggate comprises a defensive enclosure, once classed as an Iron Age fort but more probably a medieval homestead moat. The area to be scheduled is an irregular quadrilateral, bounded on the E by the roadside hedgerow, and on the N and S by existing fence lines. It measures 80m along the N and W sides, 65m along the E side and 55m along the S side, to include the enclosure, its surrounding ditch and a small area outside in which evidence relating to its construction and use may survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Kirkcudbright and the County of Stewartry of Kirkcudbright as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Secretary of State for Scotland to be of national importance compiled and maintained by him under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Given under the Seal of the Secretary of State for Scotland.
