

THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 1264
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Fan Knowe, burnt mound 210m W of Hyval Cottage comprises the well-preserved remains of a burnt mound dating probably to the Bronze Age (second millennium BC). It is visible as a roughly crescent-shaped turf-covered mound, which measures approximately 26m N-S by 20m E-W and stands around 1.5m high. A hollow in its W side is waterlogged, suggesting the presence of a water source. The mound is situated in a low-lying boggy field, at around 10m above sea level, with views across the Loch of Harray. The scheduled area is circular on plan, 36m in diameter, centred on the centre of the burnt mound. It includes the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Sandwick and the County of Orkney and Zetland as shown in red on the Plan annexed is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

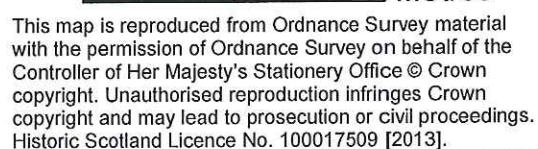

This entry supersedes the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Fan Knowe as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by the Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 28 September 1937 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Orkney and Zetland on 22 October 1937.

Subscribed by Olwyn A Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 24th day of February Two thousand and fourteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
