THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 1343
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Knowe of Lyron, mound 120m WNW of Lyron Cottage comprises the remains of a burial mound dating probably to the Bronze Age (between about 2000 and 800 BC). The monument is visible as an upstanding, circular grass-covered earthen mound. It survives to a height of approximately 1m and now measures up to 25m in diameter, but it has been spread by ploughing and was probably smaller in size originally. It occupies low-lying agricultural land at around 15m above OD, 1.4km NW of the coast at Bay of Isbister. The scheduled area is circular on plan and measures 36m in diameter. It includes the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Evie and Rendall and the County of Orkney and Zetland as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto and [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as the Mound east-north-east of Brookfield as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by the Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 13 December 1939 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Orkney and Zetland on 3 May 1940.

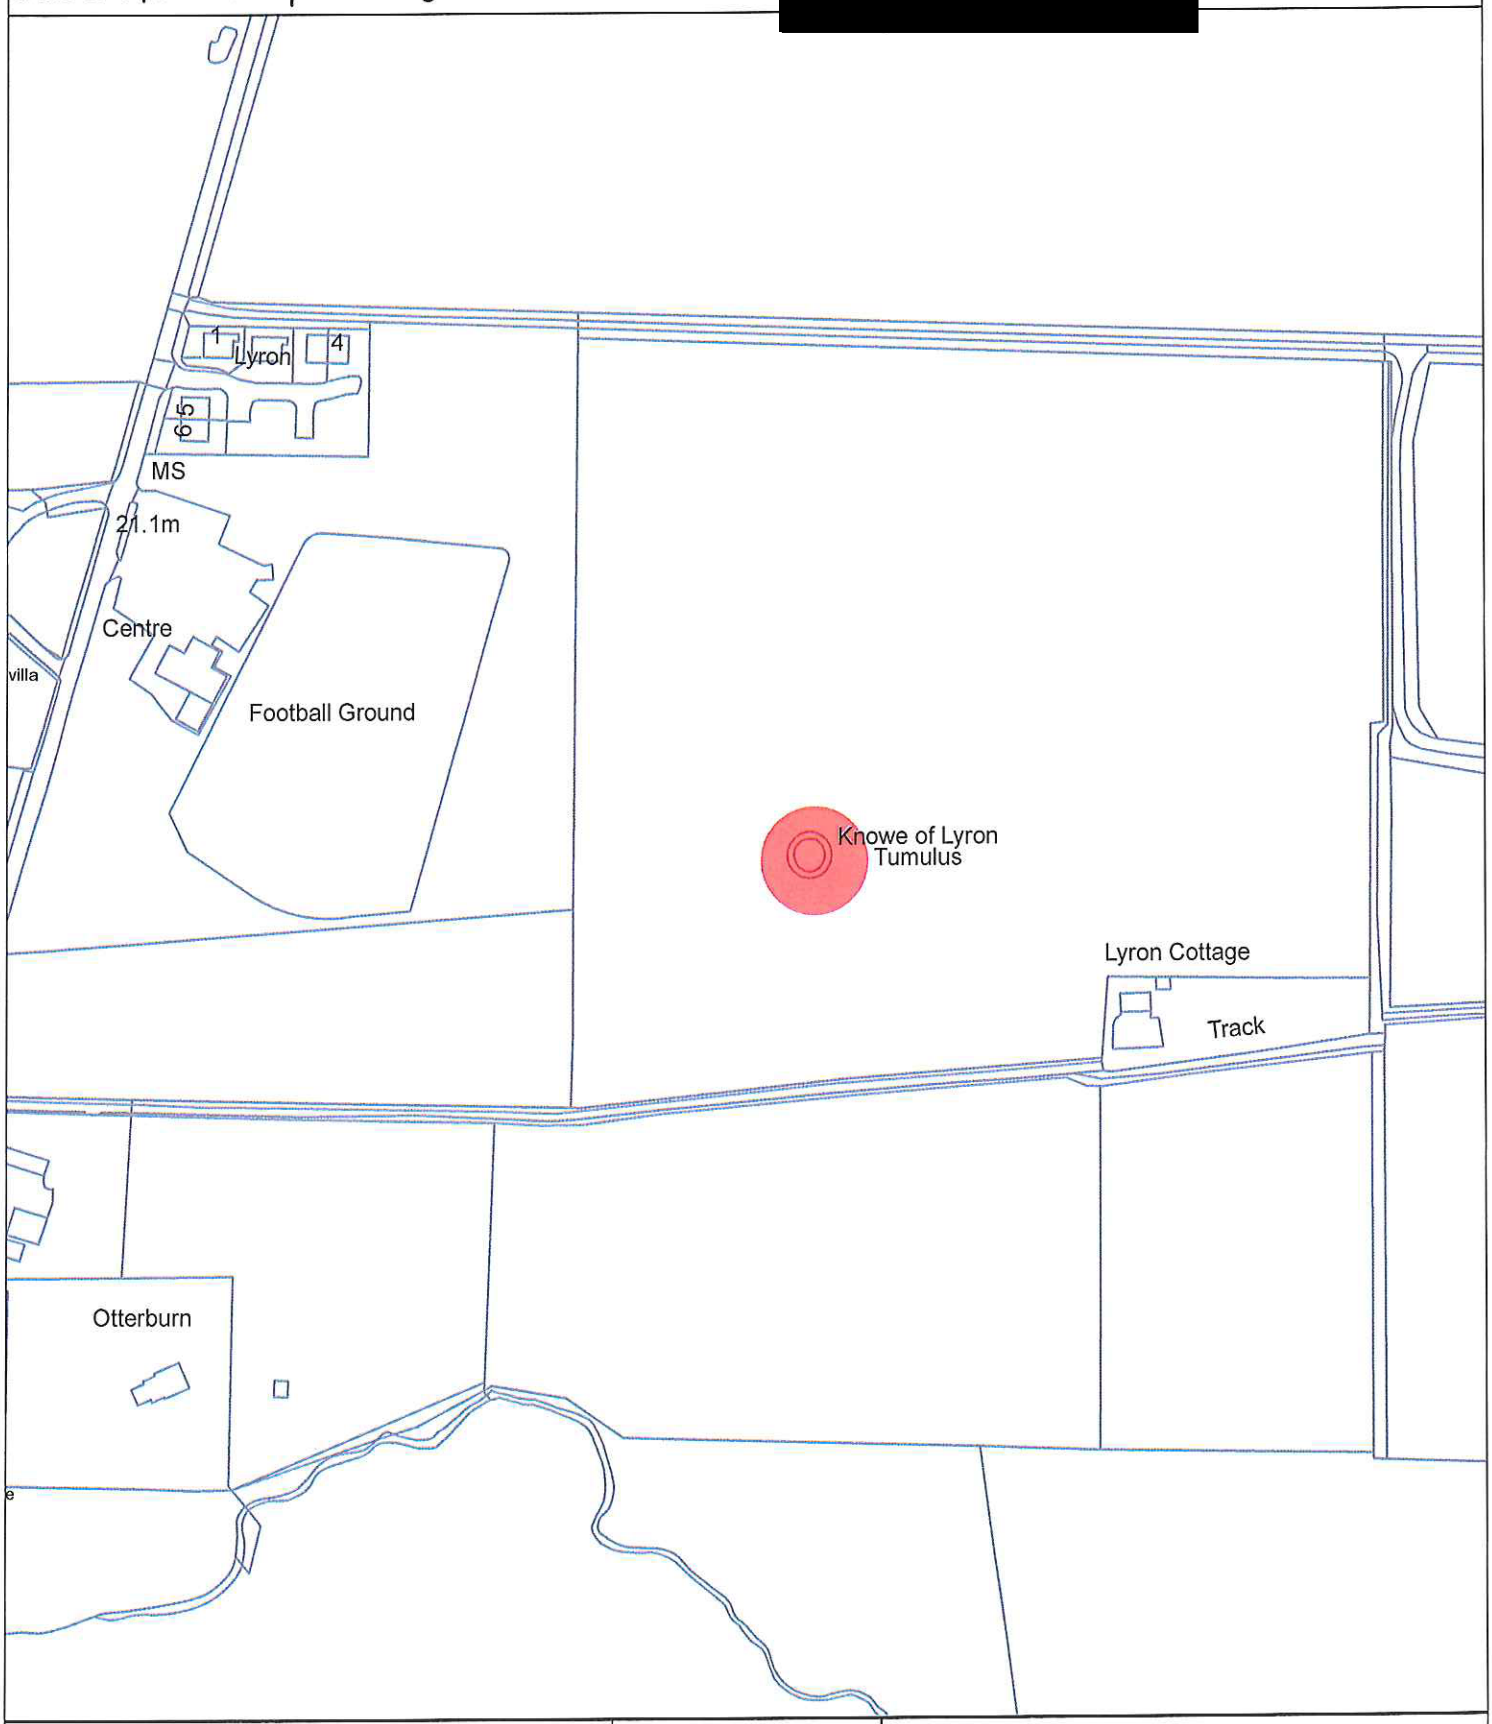

Subscribed by Olwyn A Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 24th day of February Two thousand and fourteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
