THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 1389
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Stanerandy, mound and two standing stones 100m SSE of Little Favel comprises the remains of a burial mound dating probably to the Bronze Age (between about 2000 and 800 BC) and two standing stones. The monument is visible as a mainly grass-covered earthen mound, measuring up to 12m NW-SE by 4m transversely and standing around 0.9m high. On top of the mound are two earthfast standing stones, some 1.5m apart. The monument is located at around 70m above sea level, on the lip of a steep section of the SW-facing slope of a hill overlooking Loch of Boardhouse 1km to the SW. The scheduled area is circular on plan and measures 20m in diameter. It includes the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Birsay and Harray and the County of Orkney and Zetland as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Stanerandy as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by the Commissioners of H.M. Works and Public Buildings in respect of the monument dated 27 May 1938 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Orkney and Zetland on 6 August 1938.

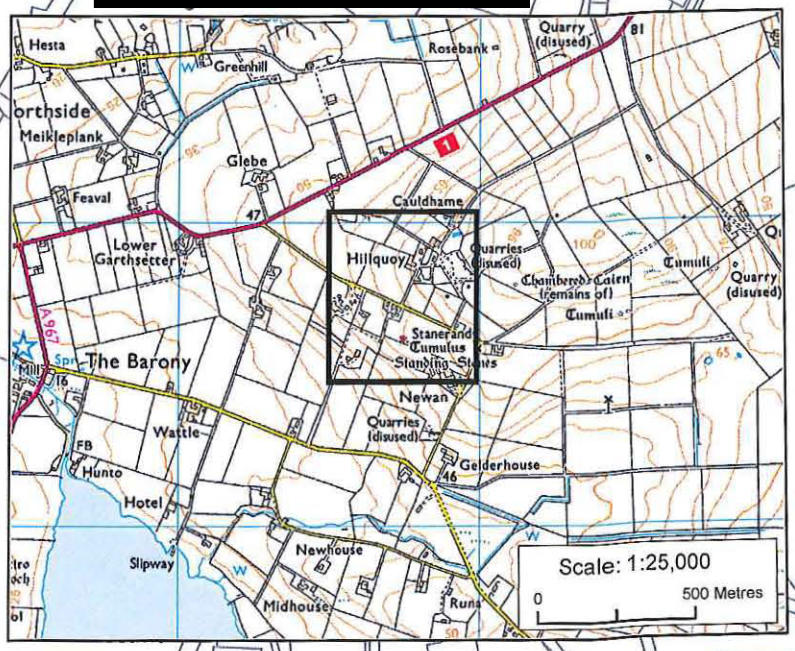

Subscribed by Olwyn A Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 13th day of February Two thousand and Fifteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
