THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 1466
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Munkerhoose, settlement and farm mound, Papa Westray comprises an extensive and complex multi-period settlement site comprising the remains of a broch tower, extra-mural broch settlement, middens, later Pictish settlement and a farm mound. The earliest recorded evidence at the site dates to the Bronze Age (between about 2000 and 800 BC). The majority of the site comprises the broch and extra-mural settlement dating to the Iron Age and Pictish period (between around 300 BC and AD 800), and the farm mound, which is thought to represent the latest phase of activity at the site and dates mainly to the 12th to 13th century AD. The remains are situated to the W and N of the church of St Boniface and its burial ground, which also dates originally to the 12th century. The scheduled area is irregular on plan. It includes the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. The scheduling specifically excludes the above-ground elements of all boundary fences and stone walls to allow for their maintenance. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Papa Westray and the County of Orkney and Zetland

[redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.
