THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Little Trochry, cairn, 150m NW of comprises a substantial circular mound, visible as an upstanding monument. The monument lies in improved pasture about 150m NW of Little Trochry, at about 150m OD. The mound is about 34m in diameter and stands up to 3m in height. It has a flat area on its summit. Stones are visible protruding through the turf all over the mound, suggesting that it may be built mainly of stone. The monument is a burial cairn of Neolithic or Bronze Age date. The area to be scheduled is a circle diameter of 57m, centred on the mound, but truncated on its NW side by the modern A822 road. It includes the remains described and a 10m-wide strip around the base of the mound within which related material may be expected to survive. The modern fence adjacent to the road is excluded from the scheduling. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Little Dunkeld and the County of Perth as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Owen Kelly, Director, Properties in Care with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 14th day of February Two thousand and two, before this witness Lesley Macdonald, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
