THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 2037
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

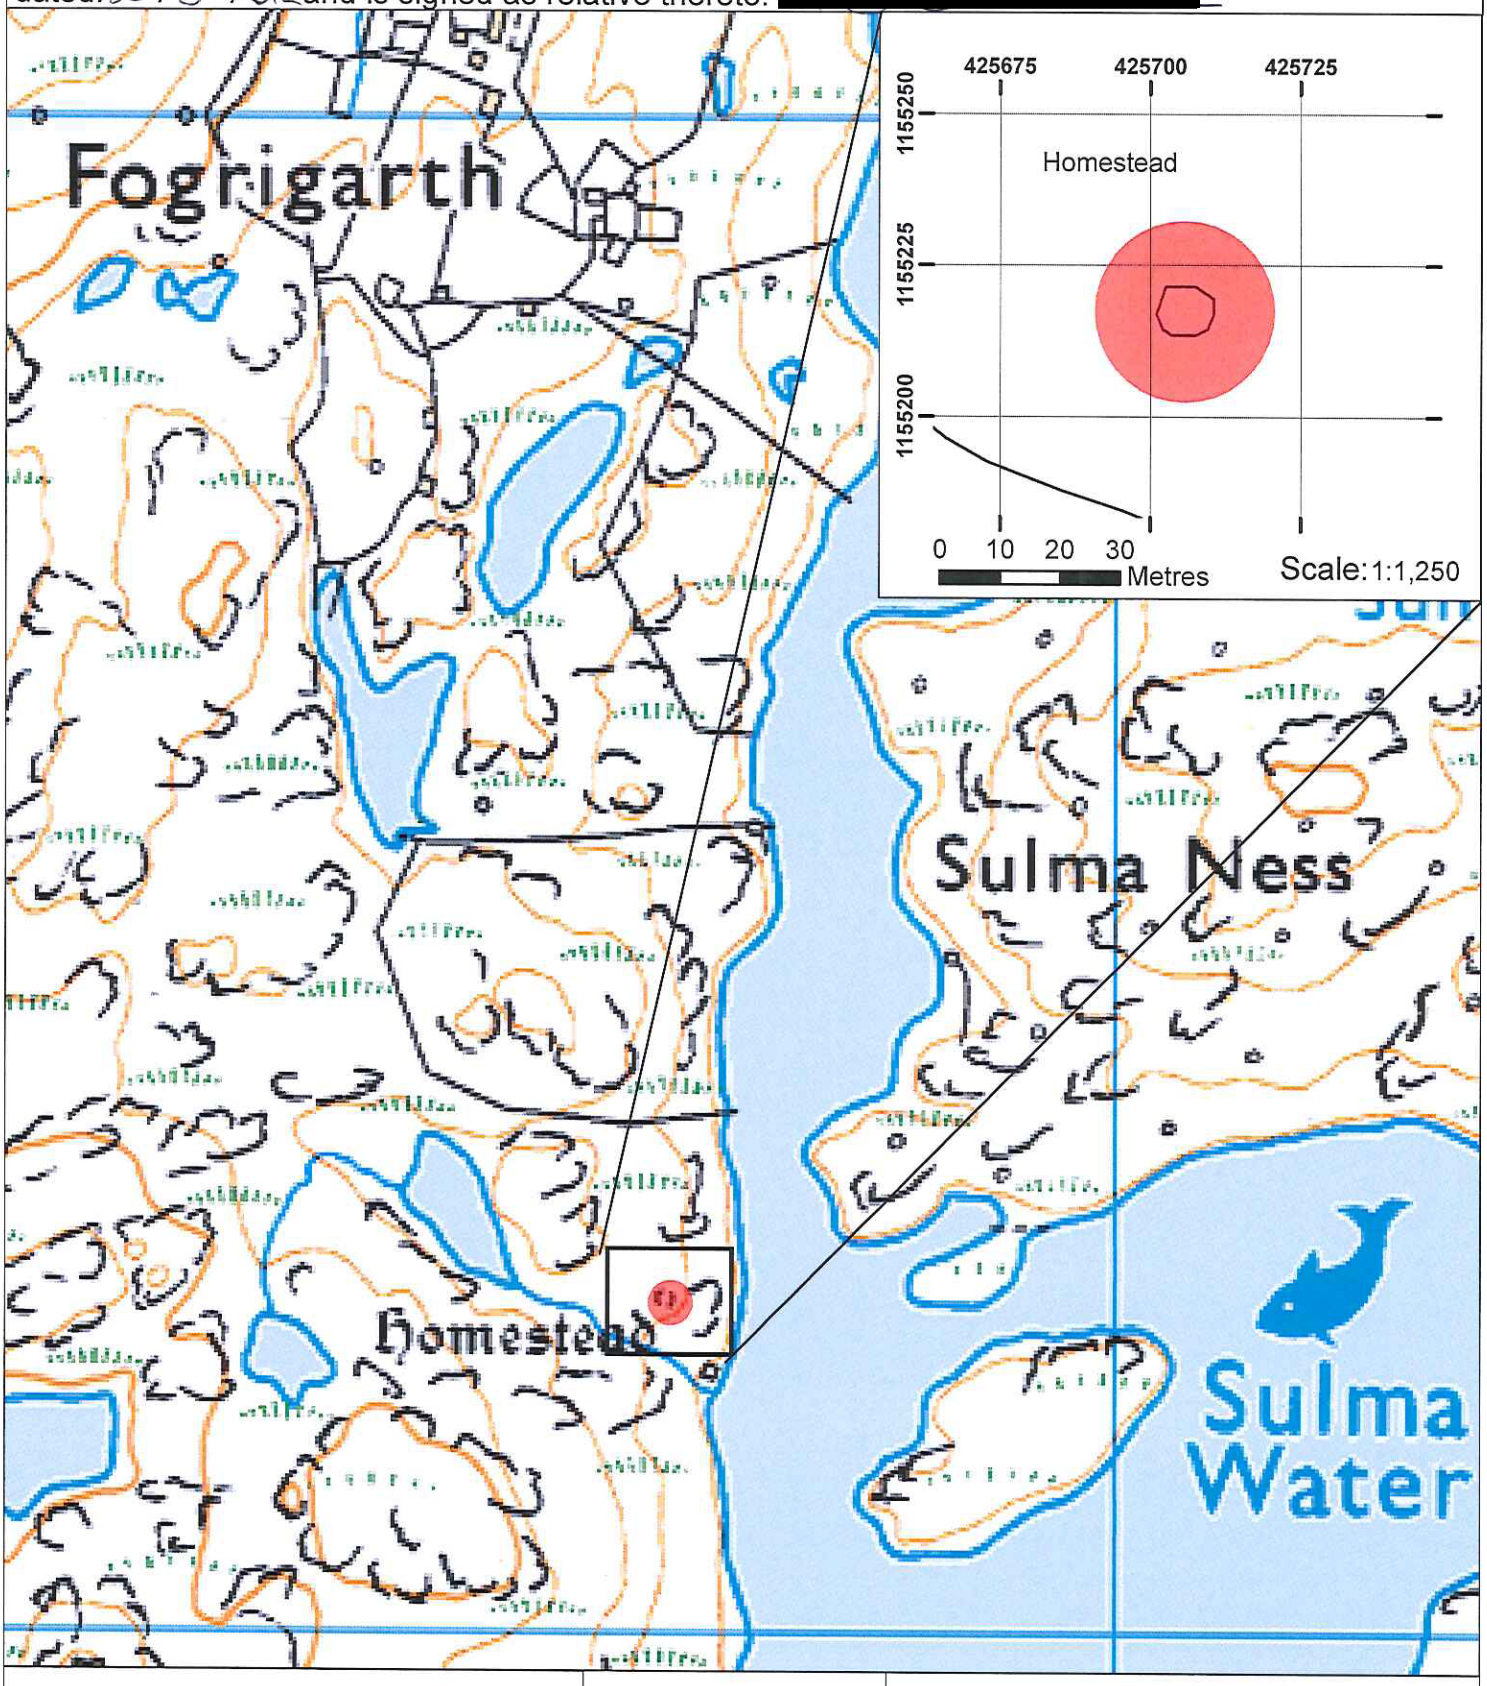

The monument known as Sulma Water, prehistoric house 800m S of Fogrigarths comprises the remains of a circular stone structure, about 10m in diameter, interpreted as the remains of a prehistoric house which was later adapted, perhaps to form a cairn. The remains are probably Neolithic or Bronze Age in origin and likely to date to between 3500 and 800 BC. The monument lies 20m above sea level on sloping ground, some 45m from the W shore of Sulma Water. As well as overlooking the lake, the site offers long views to the east. The area to be scheduled is circular on plan, measuring 30m in diameter, centred on the centre of the monument. The scheduling includes the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment may survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Sandsting and the County of Orkney and Zetland as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto and Gwe [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Barbara Cummins, Director of Heritage Management with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 30th day of March Two thousand and twelve, before this witness Victoria Murray, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
