THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 2124
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as St Tredwell's Chapel, chapel and settlement mound, Papa Westray comprises a multi-period site comprising the remains of St Tredwell's Chapel atop a settlement mound containing a possible broch. The settlement is likely to date to the early 1st millennium AD, and the visible chapel is probably 12th century (Norse period) in date. The monument survives as a large stony mound with steep sides, measuring approximately 50m NW-SE by 40m transversely and standing up to 4.5m high. On top of the mound on the SE side are the foundations of a Norse chapel. On the summit of the mound and around the lower slopes are traces of earlier walling indicative of a broch and associated settlement remains. The monument fully occupies a peninsula (formerly an island) on the E shore of the Loch of St Tredwell in Papa Westray and is around 5m above sea level. It has extensive views in all directions and is highly visible within the landscape. The scheduled area is oval on plan to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's use and re-use is expected to survive. The scheduling specifically excludes the above-ground elements of the post-and-wire fence and modern dry stone walls. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Papa Westray and the County of Orkney and Zetland as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as St Tredwall's Chapel as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by the Minister of Works in respect of the monument dated 28 December 1961 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Orkney and Zetland on 27 February 1962.

Subscribed by Olwyn A Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 29th day of September Two thousand and Fourteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
