THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 2380
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Denork Craig, fort comprises the remains of a fort dating probably to the Iron Age (from around 500 BC to 200 AD). It survives as a stone wall around 3-4m thick, built to exploit the contours of the rocky knoll of Denork Craig. These defences encompass an area of about 0.8ha, roughly oval in shape, measuring 130m NW-SE by 45m transversely. The grass-covered stone rampart is most visible on the N and NW sides where it is 3m wide and stands up to 1m high in places. The NE side has been mutilated by quarrying. An entranceway 7m wide is visible at the SE corner. The rampart appears to have been broken at the NW corner to form a further entrance, although the steps here are modern. The fort occupies the rocky knoll of Denork Craig at around 150m above OD, immediately N of Drumcarrow Craig, and commands spectacular views from N to E towards the Eden Estuary. The scheduled area is irregular on plan to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. The scheduling specifically excludes all elements of the dam and reservoir, including sluices at the S and W boundary of the scheduled area. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Cameron and the County of Fife as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto and which forms part of the subjects registered in the Land Register of Scotland under Title No FFE2261 [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Denork Craig Fort as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by the Secretary of State for Scotland by the Minister of Public Building and Works in respect of the monument dated 18 February 1964 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Fife on 4 March 1964.

Subscribed by Olwyn A Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 13th day of December Two thousand and thirteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
