

THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 2415
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Ythan Wells, Roman camps 1000m WSW of Logie Newton Farm comprises the remains of two Roman temporary camps, partly superimposed, but both dating probably from the Agricolan period in the late 1st century AD. The defensive ditches of both camps are visible as cropmarks on oblique aerial photographs. The archaeological remains survive mainly beneath the ploughsoil as buried features and deposits, although parts of the rampart of the larger camp are preserved as upstanding features in later field boundaries. The camps are located at the N end of a broad ridge that rises above the S bank of the River Ythan and lie between 150m and 215m above sea level. The scheduled area is irregular on plan, to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. The scheduling excludes the above-ground elements of all post-and-wire fences and telegraph poles. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Auchterless and the County of Aberdeen as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Ythan Wells, Roman camps to W of Logie Aulton as referred to in the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments by the Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 16 October 1998 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Aberdeen on 23 February 1999.

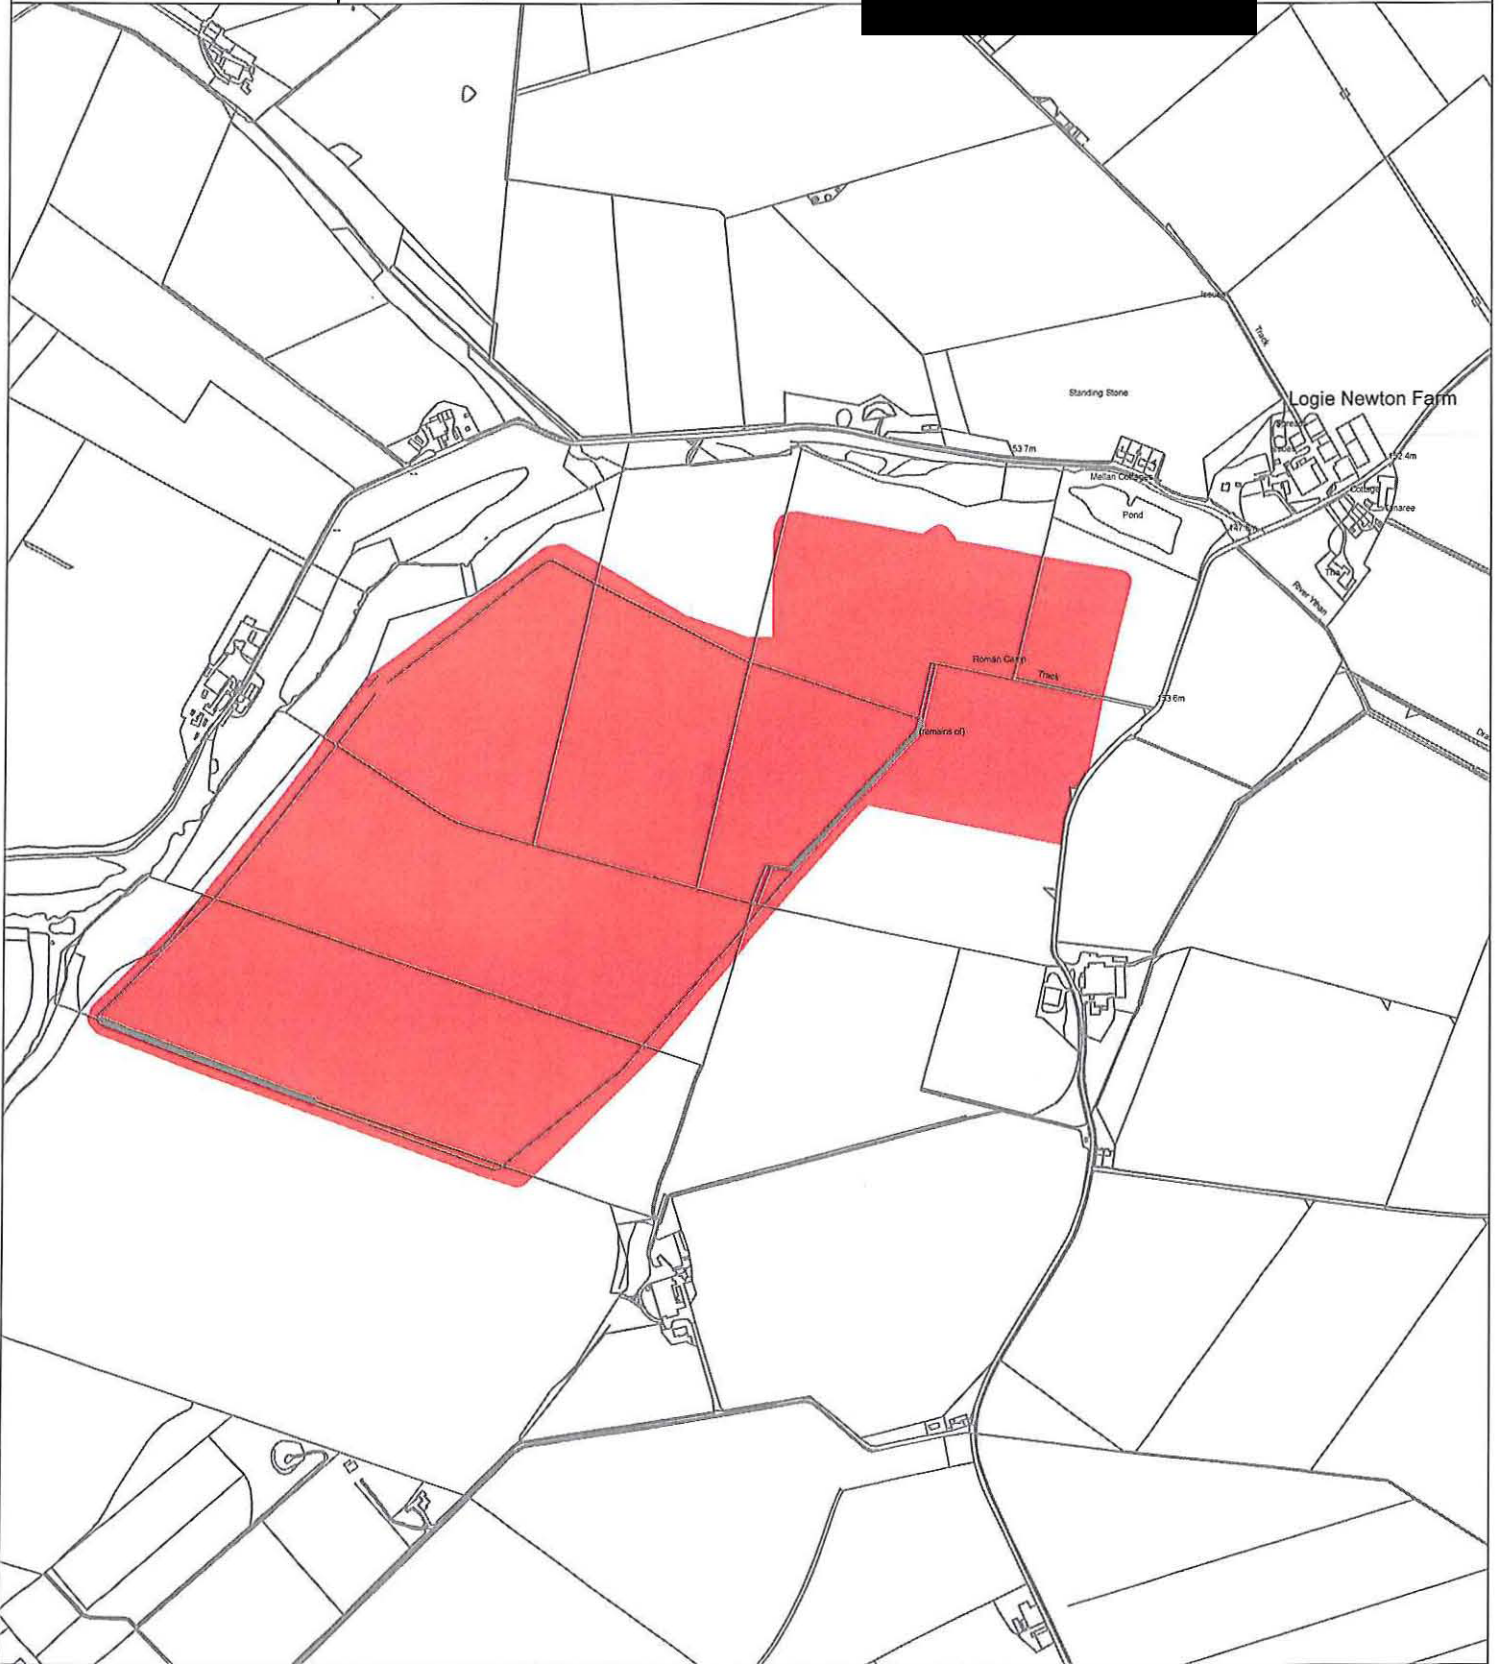

Subscribed by Olwyn A Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 16th day of January Two thousand and fourteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
