

THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 2462
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Invermark Castle and township 220m SW of House of Mark comprises the remains of Invermark Castle and its associated township. The castle survives as a rectangular tower house, which stands four storeys high with a garret. To the N are the turf-covered remains of an associated township comprising at least seven buildings, with fragments of as many as six others, spread over an area of around 2ha. The castle stands on the N side of the Water of Lee near its confluence with the Water of Mark at the head of Glen Esk at around 260m above sea level. The scheduled area is irregular on plan to include the remains described above and an area around them in which evidence for the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. The scheduling specifically excludes the above-ground elements of all modern boundary walls, fences and signage, and the top 300mm of all modern roads to allow for their maintenance. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Lochlee and the County of Angus as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [REDACTED] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Invermark Castle as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by the Minister of Public Building and Works in respect of the monument dated 23 July 1964 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Angus on 20 August 1964.

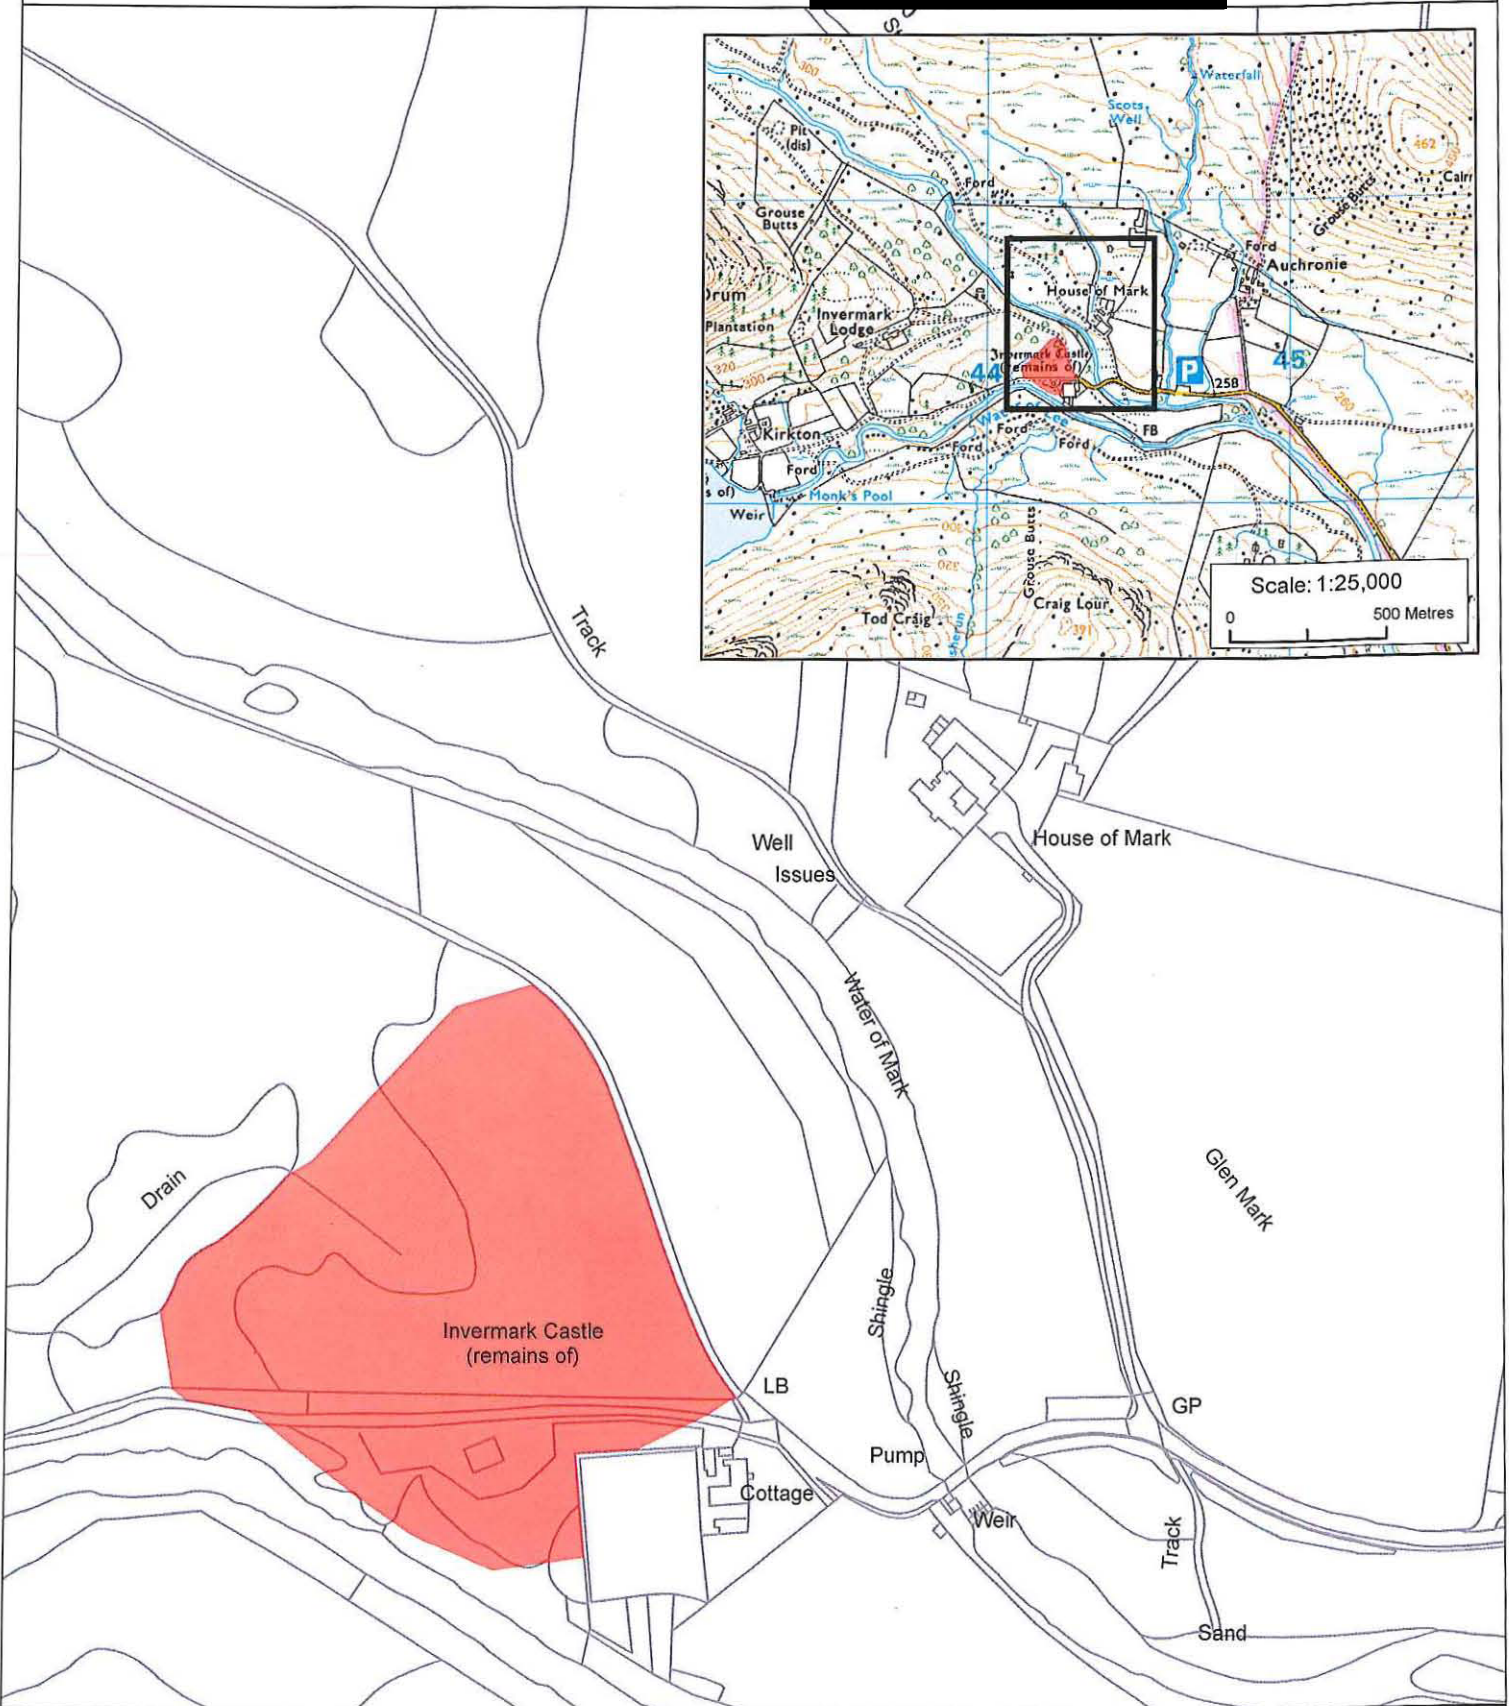

Subscribed by Olwyn A Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 8th day of July Two thousand and fifteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
