THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 2874
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Dickmount Law, cairn comprises a burial cairn dating probably to the Bronze Age (between about 2000 BC and 800 BC). It comprises a large circular, flat-topped mound of earth and stone measuring approximately 30m in diameter overall and standing up to 3m high. The top of the cairn is around 12m in diameter and slightly concave. The mound is enclosed within a modern stone retaining wall. The monument is situated in a prominent location atop Dickmount Law, at around 95m above sea level, with extensive views in all directions. The scheduled area is circular on plan, measuring 36m in diameter, to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. The scheduling specifically excludes two modern memorials placed on top of the cairn and the above-ground elements of all modern field boundaries to allow for their continued maintenance. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Arbroath and St Vigeans and the County of Angus as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Cairn Dickmount Law, 325 yds ENE of Dickmountlaw as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by the Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 24 December 1969 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Angus on 24 April 1970.

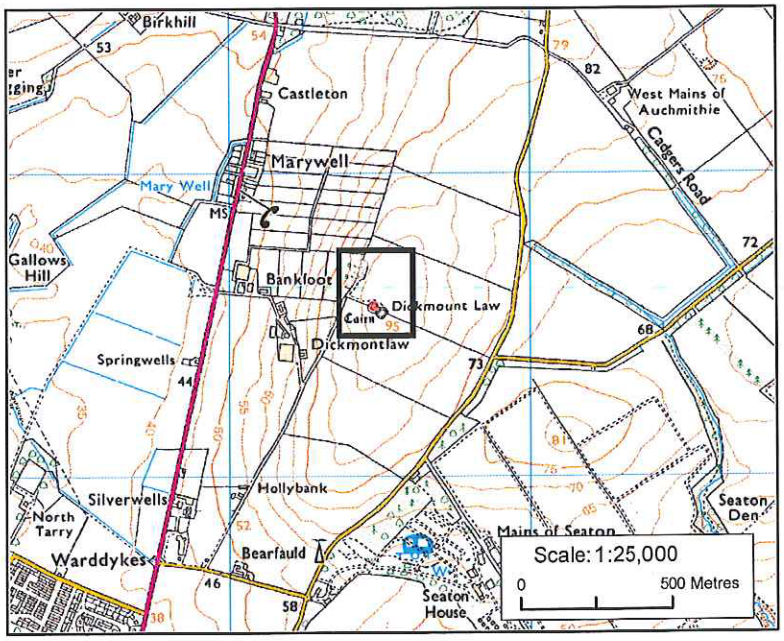

Subscribed by Olwyn A Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 31st day of March Two thousand and Fifteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
