THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 3656
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Escart, standing stones comprises an alignment of five standing stones likely to date to the second millennium BC. The stones stand in a row aligned approximately NE-SW. The measurements of each stone are as follows (from NESW): 1m by 0.3m, with a slight taper, 2.85m high; 1.3m by 0.4m and 3.3m high, the largest stone in the group; 0.7m by 0.4m and 2.44m high; 1m by 0.5m and 2.06m high; 0.8m by 0.25m and 1.12m high. The stones stand on a very gently sloping terrace, at 30m above sea level, immediately adjacent to Escart farmhouse. The two northernmost stones are within a yard at the edge of an area of hard standing; the other three stand on a lawn at the edge of the driveway. The area to be scheduled is approximately oval on plan. The NW edge of the scheduled area extends to within 1m of the farmhouse. The scheduling includes the stones described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment may survive. The top 30cm of the driveway and hard standing, and the drystone wall which crosses the scheduled area, are excluded from the scheduling to allow for their maintenance. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Kilcalmonell and the County of Argyll as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

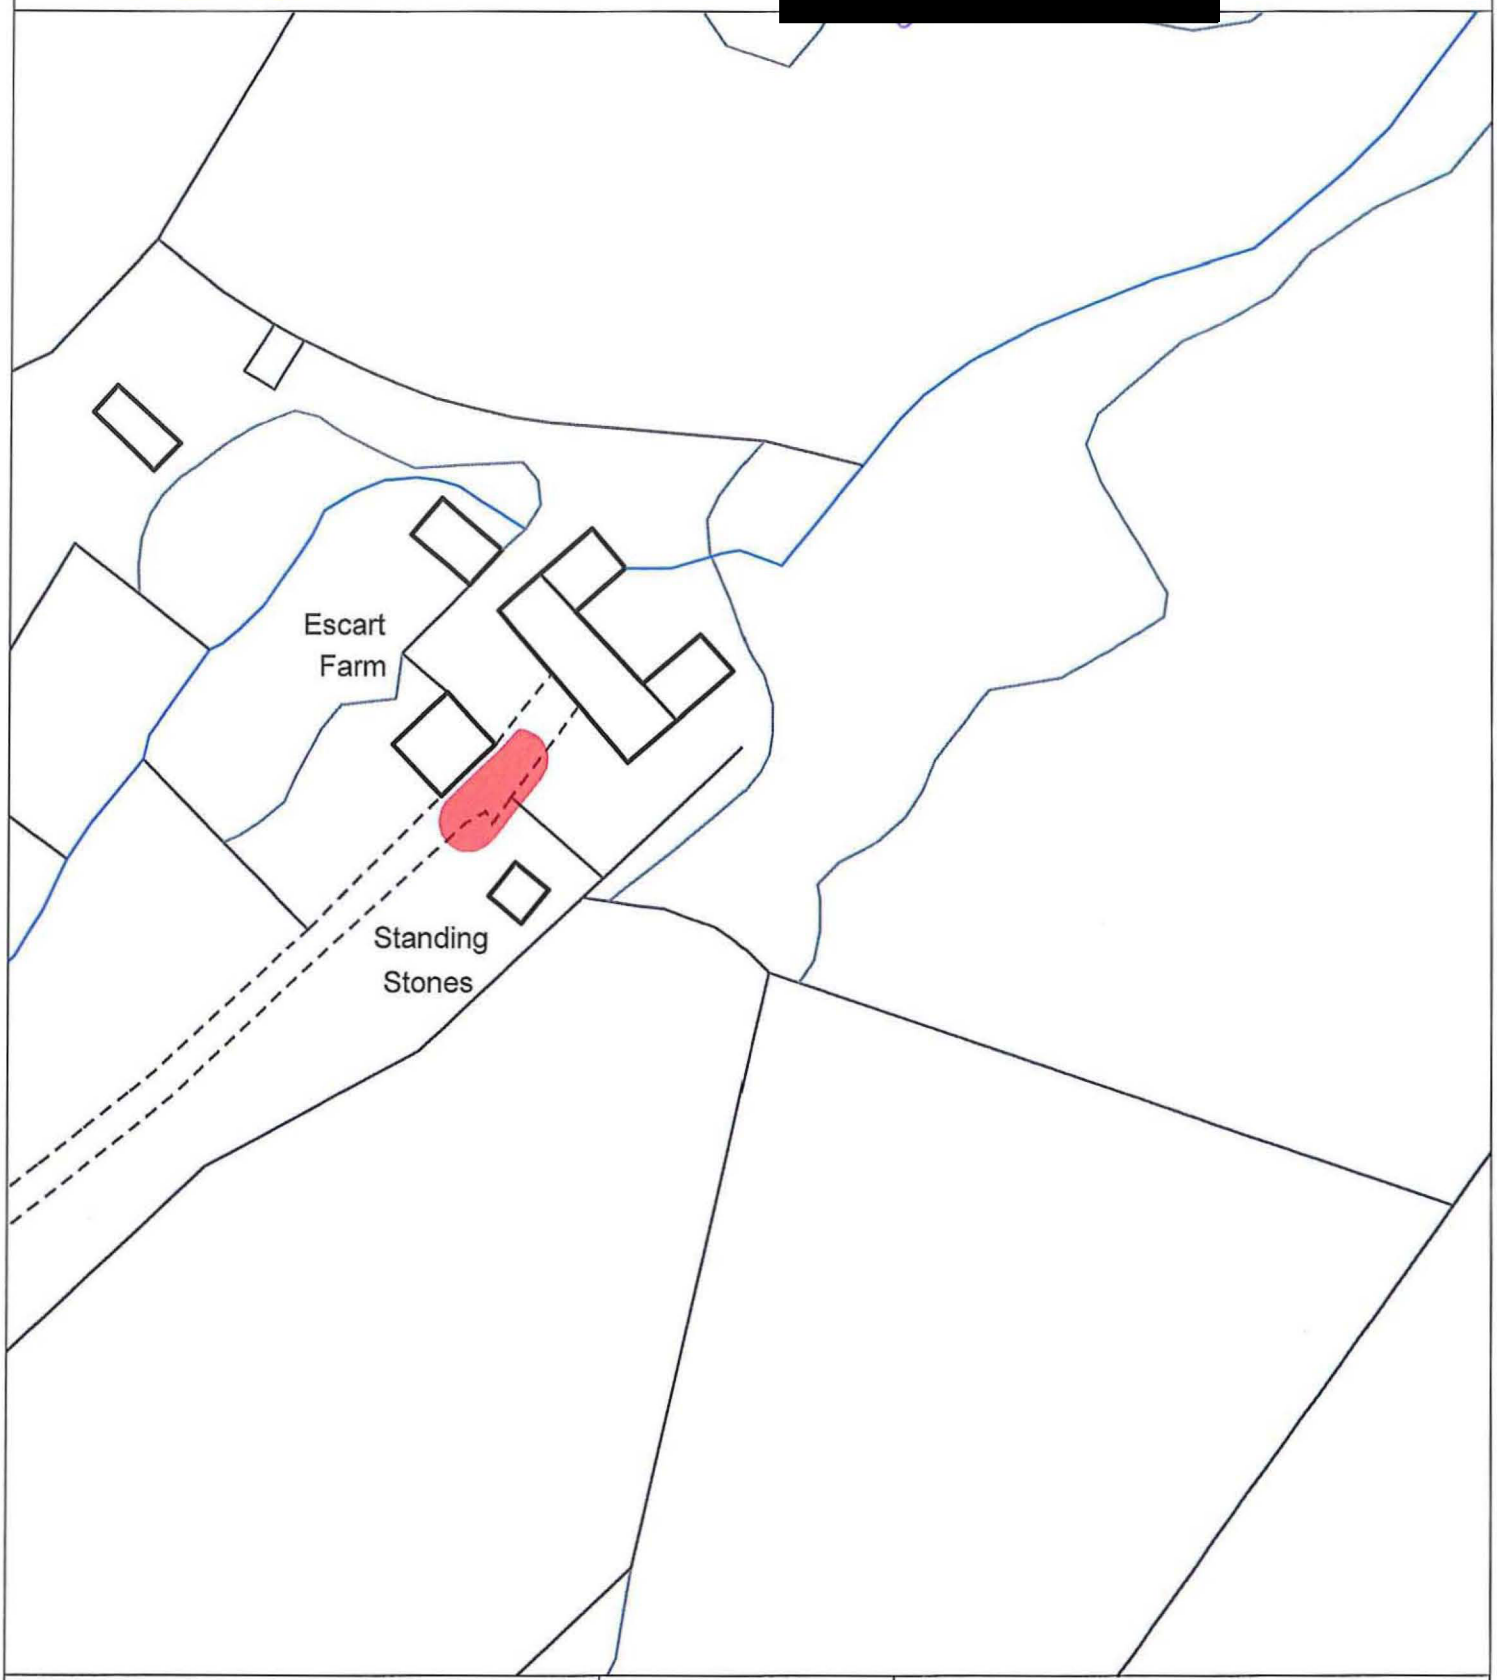

Subscribed by Olwyn Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 4th day of February Two thousand and thirteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
