THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 3967
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Kilmore, cairns and enclosure 345m NNE of Cleigh House comprises two cairns and a circular earthwork, all dating from the Neolithic or Bronze Age (sometime between 4000 and 1000 BC). The cairns are visible as turf-covered stony mounds. The larger cairn measures about 32m in diameter and stands 1.8m high. Two stone slabs visible towards the centre may be the sides of a cist. The second cairn lies about 10m to the NW and is much smaller, measuring 8.5m in diameter and 0.6m high. The circular earthwork lies 15m S of the larger cairn. It takes the form of a low bank about 5m wide and 0.3m high with traces of an internal ditch, which encloses a near-circular area 21m in diameter. It is probably a ritual monument known as a henge. The site lies about 15m above sea level, on flat land in a valley floor location, between Loch Nell 0.5km to the N and Loch Feochan, a sea loch 2km to the SW. The area to be scheduled is irregular on plan, including the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment may survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Kilmore and Kilbride and the County of Argyll as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Kilmore, enclosure 350m NNE of Cleigh as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by the Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 4 March 1977 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Argyll on 3 June 1977 and the entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monuments known as Kilmore, cairns 365m NNE of Cleigh as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by The Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 4 March 1977 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Argyll on 20 May 1977.

Subscribed by Olwyn Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 31st day of May Two thousand and thirteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
