THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 4047
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Auchachenna, chambered cairn 190m SE of Craigloiste comprises the remains of a Clyde-type chambered long cairn of Neolithic date. It is visible as a long low mound of stones, now lying within a field of rough pasture. The cairn measures some 30m in length with its long axis aligned NNW-SSE. The NNW end of the cairn has been truncated by a stone dyke, but the measurements of the surviving monument, 14m in width at the SSE side narrowing to 11m at the NNW, suggest that it was originally trapezoidal in shape. The cairn survives to a maximum height of 1.6m at the SE end where a chamber is located. The chamber, which measures about 6.8m by 1.1m, is on the same alignment as the cairn and is delineated by six surviving slabs: four marking the SW side and one at the NW end. Another stone which has been slightly displaced appears to belong to the NE side. The SW portal stone survives to an impressive height of 1.45m and three other stones, located at the SE end of the chamber, may be part of the façade. The cairn is situated on a slight rocky ridge in an otherwise level field at about 150m above sea level. The area to be scheduled is oval on plan and measures 40m NNW-SSE by 24m NNE-SSW. The scheduling includes the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment may survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Kilchrenan and Dalavich and the County of Argyll as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto and is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Upper Achachenna chambered cairn 400m SSW of as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by The Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 23 December 1977 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Argyll on 30 March 1978.

Subscribed by Olwyn Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 19 day of March Two thousand and thirteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
