THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 4140
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Kilmun, chapel and burial ground 125m NNW of comprises the remains of a chapel and burial ground which were in use probably between the 13th and 15th centuries, but may have had earlier origins. The monument lies 120m above sea level on a relatively flat shelf, part-way down a SE-facing slope, looking towards the W shore of Loch Awe some 700m away. The site now lies in woodland, but would probably have had views over the loch and the mouth of the River Avich originally. The area to be scheduled is circular on plan, measuring 40m in diameter, centred on the chapel. The scheduling includes the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment may survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Kilchrenan and Dalavich and the County of Argyll as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the Certificate of Service of Notice for the monument known then as Kilmun Burial Ground and Chapel as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by the Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 7 December 1978 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Argyll on 24 January 1979.

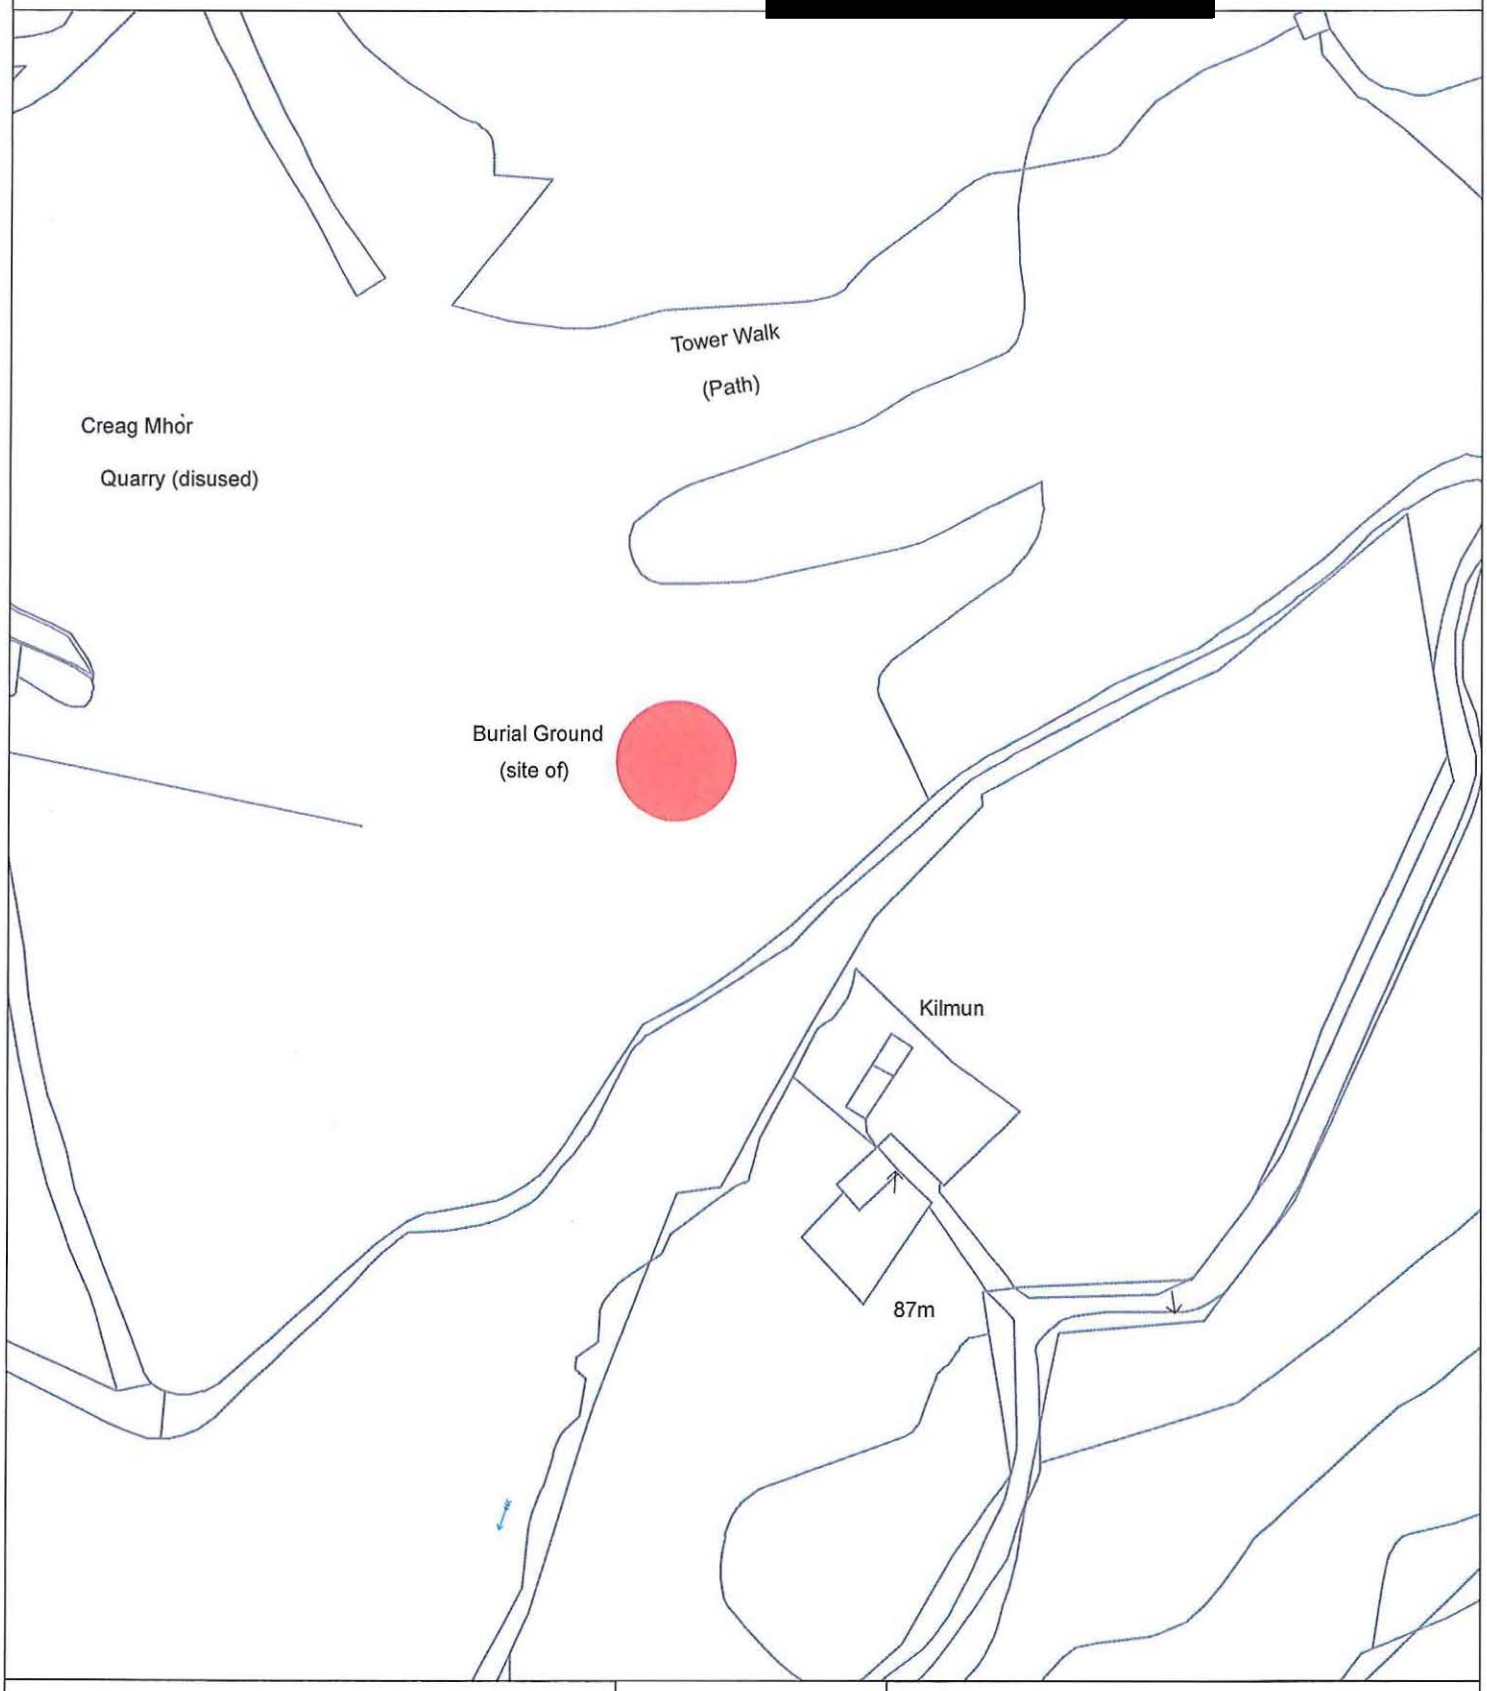

Subscribed by Olwyn A Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 10th day of May Two thousand and thirteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
