THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 4182
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Dun Ormidale, fort 345m NNE of Gallanach comprises a prehistoric or early historic fort, built and used probably between 1500 BC and AD 800. It is visible as a hilltop bounded by steep and in places vertical slopes, augmented by the remains of a wall which is present intermittently around the N and E. The fort occupies the whole of the sloping summit of the hill, which rises from 140m to 160m above sea level. The total area of the fort is about 3ha. The fort stands 300m from the W coast of Argyll, and commands exceptional views N and S along the Sound of Kerrera and beyond. The area to be scheduled is irregular on plan, to include the hilltop and the steep slopes immediately around it. The scheduling includes the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment may survive. The scheduling specifically excludes the memorial cairn on the S side of the hilltop and the above-ground elements of post-and-wire fences. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Kilmore and Kilbride and the County of Argyll as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Olwyn Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 7th day of February Two thousand and thirteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
