THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 4210
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Upper Gylen, fort 700m ENE of, Kerrera comprises a prehistoric fort likely to date to the Iron Age (between 500 BC and AD 500). It survives as a substantial turf-covered enclosure wall and associated buried remains, occupying the level summit of an isolated rocky hillock on the E shore of Kerrera, overlooking the Sound of Kerrera. The fort is roughly oval in shape and the interior measures approximately 36m NE-SW by 27m transversely. It sits in an area of improved grassland at around 15m above sea level. The scheduled area is an irregular polygon on plan and includes the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. Its boundary extends 5m beyond the base of the rock outcrop on which the monument is sited. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Kilmore and Kilbride and the County of Argyll as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Upper Gylen, fort 700m East North East of as referred to in the Certificate of Service of Notice by the Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 9 January 1979 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Argyll on 24 January 1979.

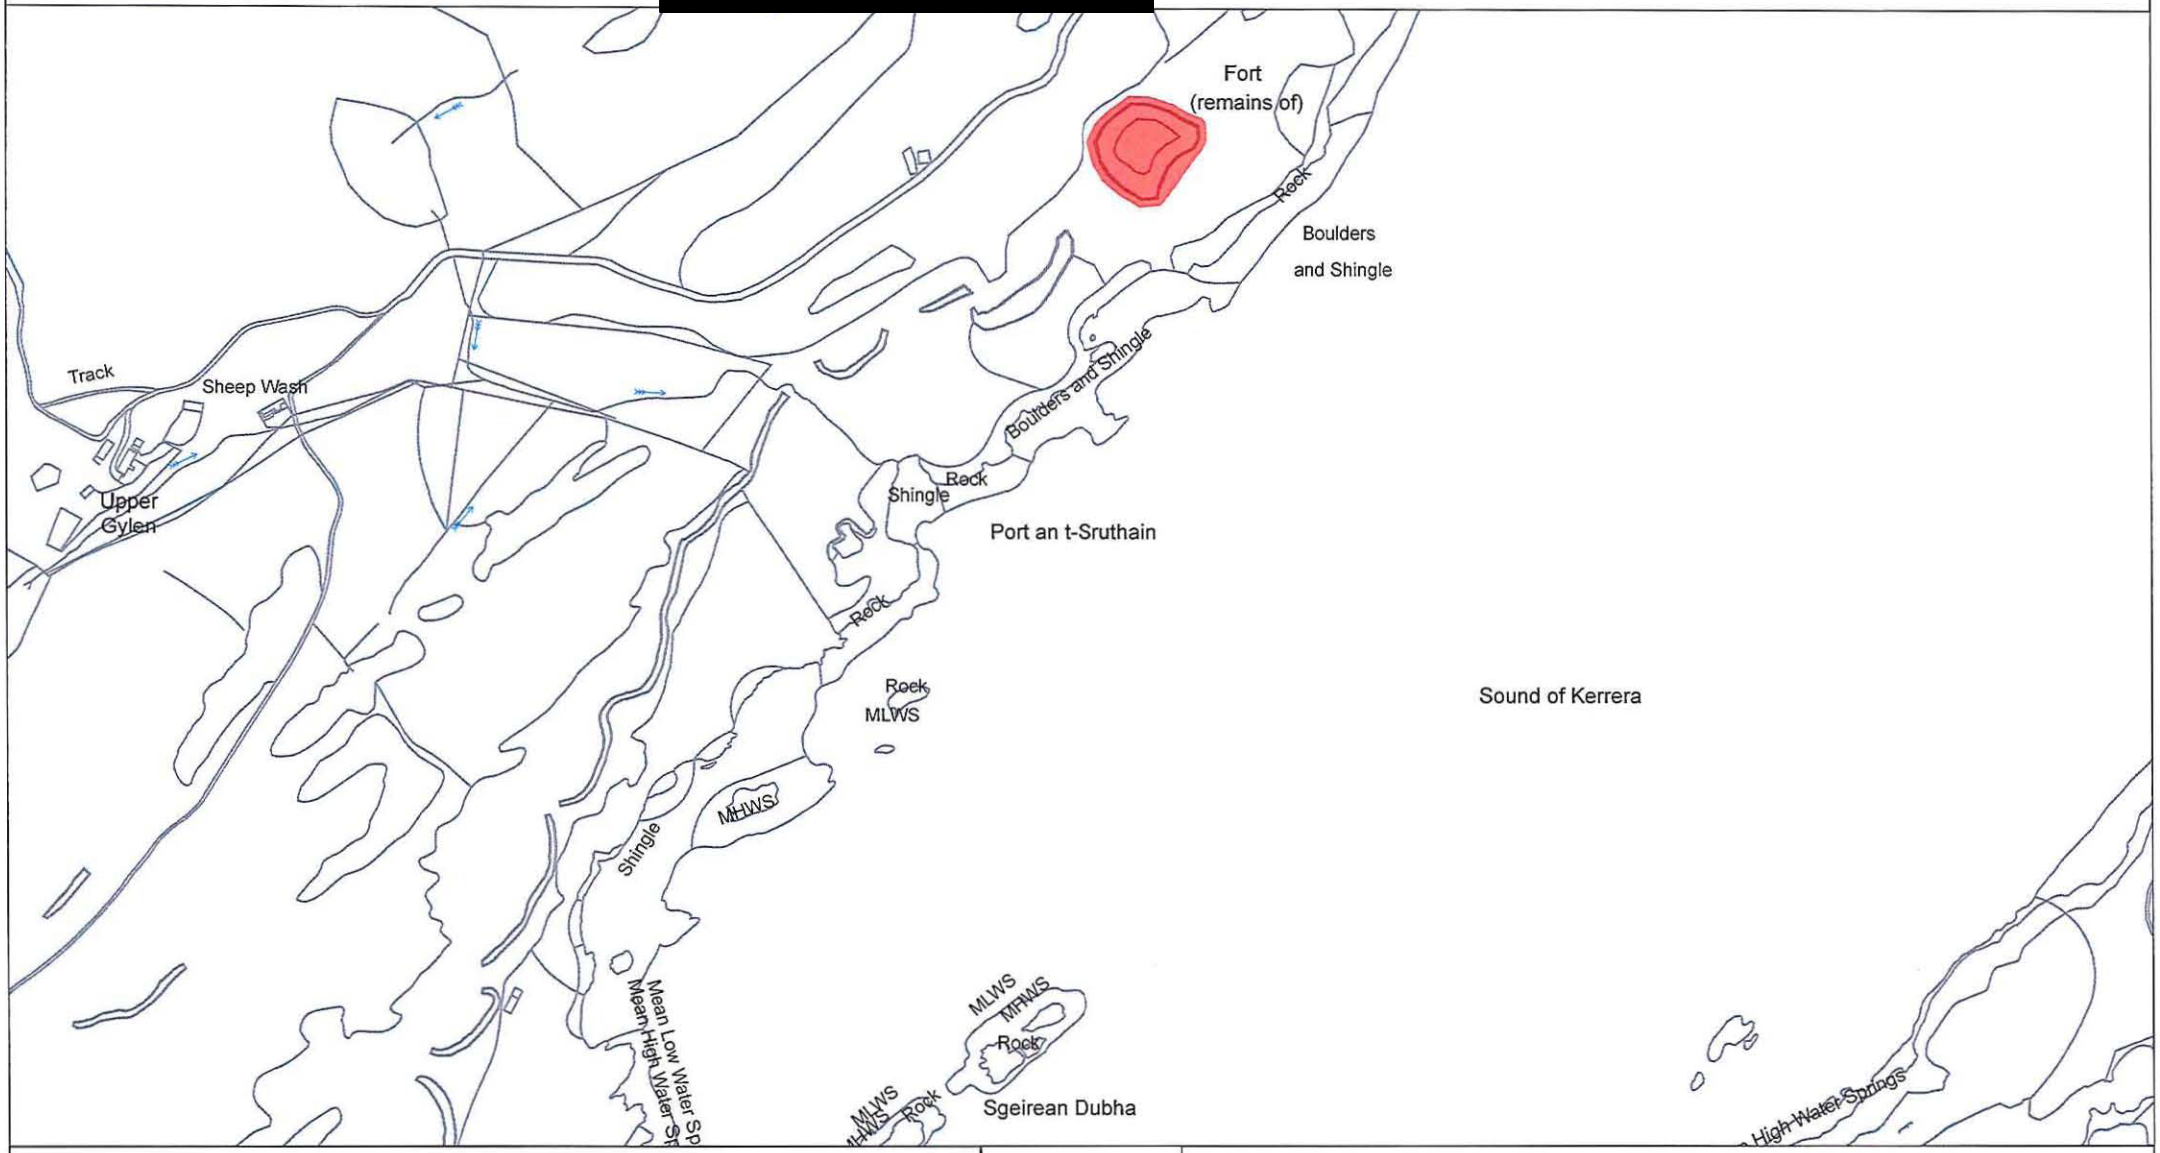

Subscribed by Olwyn Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 15th day of August Two thousand and thirteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
