THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 4475
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Culhawk Hill, stone circle 390m WNW of Balstard comprises the remains of a circular setting of five stones, dating probably from the late Neolithic or Bronze Age (third to second millennium BC). The visible remains consist of five stones that form part of a circle 10m in diameter; one stone stands 0.8m high, while the other four have fallen in situ. The monument lies on relatively level ground in the saddle between Culhawk Hill and Castle Hill, at about 270m above sea level. The scheduled area is a circle of 30m diameter on plan, centred on the centre of the circuit of stones. The scheduled area includes the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Kirriemuir and the County of Angus as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Culhawk Hill, stone circle 350m WNW of Balstard as referred to in the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments by the Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 24 March 1988 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Angus on 16 May 1988.

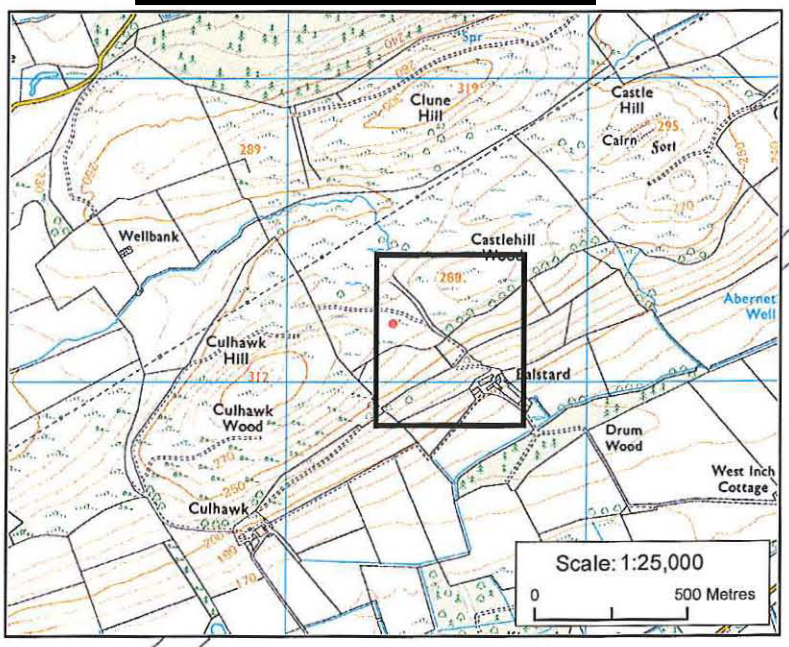

Subscribed by Olwyn A Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 28th day of July Two thousand and fifteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
