THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 5023
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Fosterlands, enclosure 695m N of comprises the buried remains of an enclosure interpreted as a settlement dating to later prehistory and likely to be Iron Age (late centuries BC/early centuries AD) in origin. It survives as an interrupted circular ditch feature showing in oblique aerial photographs. The monument lies in cultivated land at 220m above sea level at the SE end of the Lammermuirs, above the Merse. The settlement is enclosed by a single-ditched feature 50m in diameter. The area to be scheduled is circular on plan, to include the remains described and an area around within which evidence relating to their construction and use may survive. The scheduling specifically excludes the above-ground elements of a post-and-wire fence and gate running NW-SE at the W side of the monument and a second post-and-wire fence running ENE-WSW at the S side of the monument, to allow for their maintenance. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Bunkle and Preston and the County of Berwick as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Malcolm Cooper, Chief Inspector with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 5 day of March Two thousand and nine, before this witness Luke Wormald, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
