THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Dun Tealtaig, fort, Colonsay comprises a fort which occupies a rocky promontory, protected by cliffs or steep slopes on all but the SW side. A wall, appearing as a low bank of earth and rubble core material, now encloses only the E and S sides, but may once have extended around the entire promontory. Inside there are two U-shaped enclosures formed by low earth and stone banks, an oval, levelled scoop and a rectangular enclosure possibly representing remains of a house. The scheduled area includes the summit of the promontory, a maximum area some 50m (N-S) by 45m (E-W). The monument, which lies in the Parishes of Colonsay and Oronsay and the County of Argyll as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Secretary of State for Scotland to be of national importance compiled and maintained by him under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Given under the Seal of the Secretary of State for Scotland.
