THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Craonaval, chambered cairn 800m E of comprises of the remains of a prehistoric chambered burial cairn set on low ground between Oban nam Fiadh and Loch Caravat. The cairn has been much disturbed, and now stands only 1.6m high. It appears originally to have been circular, approximately 16m in diameter, with an outer kerb of large boulders, most of which have been removed. There are clear traces of an entrance from the SSE, and within the cairn a large chamber, constructed of six upright slabs, measures 3.6m by 3.5m. Five shielings have been built on and around the cairn, using material from it. The area to be scheduled is circular, 40m in diameter and centred on the cairn, to include the cairn, the shielings and an area around in which evidence relating to their construction and use may survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of North Uist and the County of Inverness as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto and which forms part of the subjects described in the is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Secretary of State for Scotland to be of national importance compiled and maintained by him under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.
