THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 5256
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Cill a'Mhanaich, church and burial ground 210m SSW of Kilmeny comprises the remains of Cill a' Mhanaich, the old parish church of Kilmeny, and its burial ground, the eastern part of which is still in use. Only the W end of the church still stands, although traces of the walls elsewhere indicate that the structure was originally 11.5m long. The scheduled area is rectangular on plan, to include the remains of the church and the W portion of the surrounding burial ground. The scheduling excludes all burial lairs where rights of burial still exist. It also excludes the above-ground elements of the wall enclosing the burial ground, and all burial monuments of 19th-century or later date, to allow for their maintenance. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Killarow and Kilmeny and the County of Argyll as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Kilmeny, Old Parish Church and burial ground as referred to in the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments by the Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 9 March 1992 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Argyll on 3 September 1992.

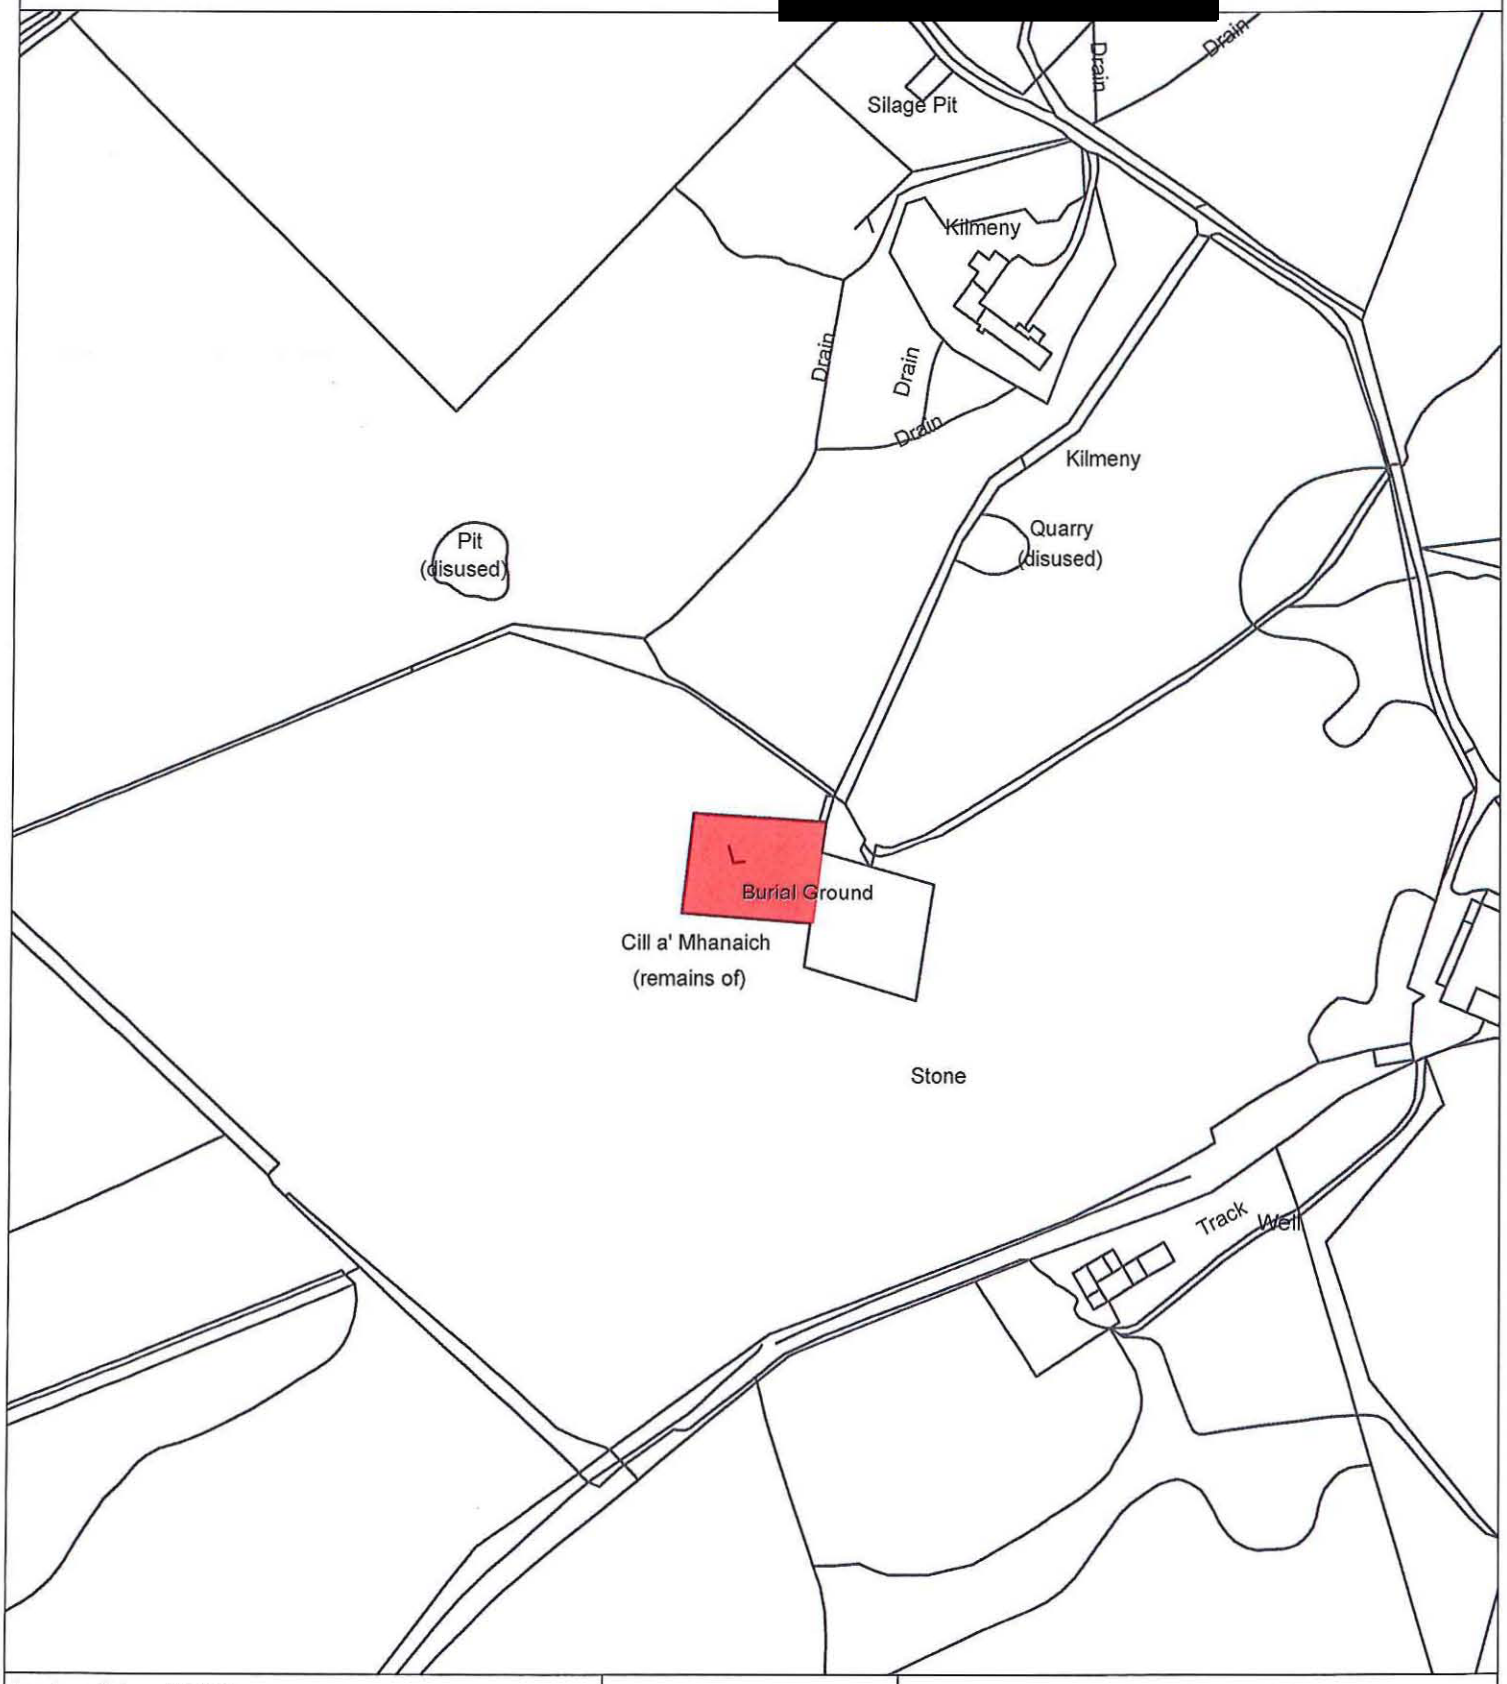

Subscribed by Olwyn Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 15th day of August Two thousand and thirteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
