THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Castle Hill, motte comprises a motte on a small promontory projecting into the valley of the Kittoch Water. It has been constructed by digging two transverse ditches across the promontory, thereby isolating an oval-shaped area, some 40m NE-SW by 18m. The quarried material seems to have been used to raise the height of the enclosed area. The top of the mound is flat, but a raised circular area, 17m in diameter, at the NE end may possibly represent the site of a building, perhaps a keep. The scheduled area includes the mound, ditches, counterscarps and all ground within the fenceline, measuring some 140m NE-SW by 80m NW-SE. The monument, which lies in the Parish of East Kilbride and the County of Lanark as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto and which forms [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Secretary of State for Scotland to be of national importance compiled and maintained by him under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Given under the Seal of the Secretary of State for Scotland.
