THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 5313
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Auchencrow Mains, settlements 460m W of comprises the remains of a pair of settlements of probable later prehistoric date, visible as cropmarks on aerial photographs. They are located at 100-105m above sea level on the SE-facing slope of a small, unnamed hill 920m NW of the Auchencrow Burn. The western settlement survives as a single rectilinear ditch, enclosing an area 60m N-S by 75m transversely. The ditch measures between 0.5m and 5m in width. The eastern settlement survives as a single sub-circular ditch, enclosing an area 40m N-S by 45m transversely. The ditch measures up to 3m in width. Another cropmark is visible 10m W of the W side of the second settlement. This is a roughly semi-circular mark, 6m in diameter and with a small circular feature visible on its N side. The area to be scheduled is irregular in plan, to include the remains described and an area around them within which evidence relating to their construction, use and abandonment may survive. The scheduling extends up to but specifically excludes the post-and-wire fence that marks the S edge of the scheduled area, to allow for its maintenance. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Coldingham and the County of Berwick as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

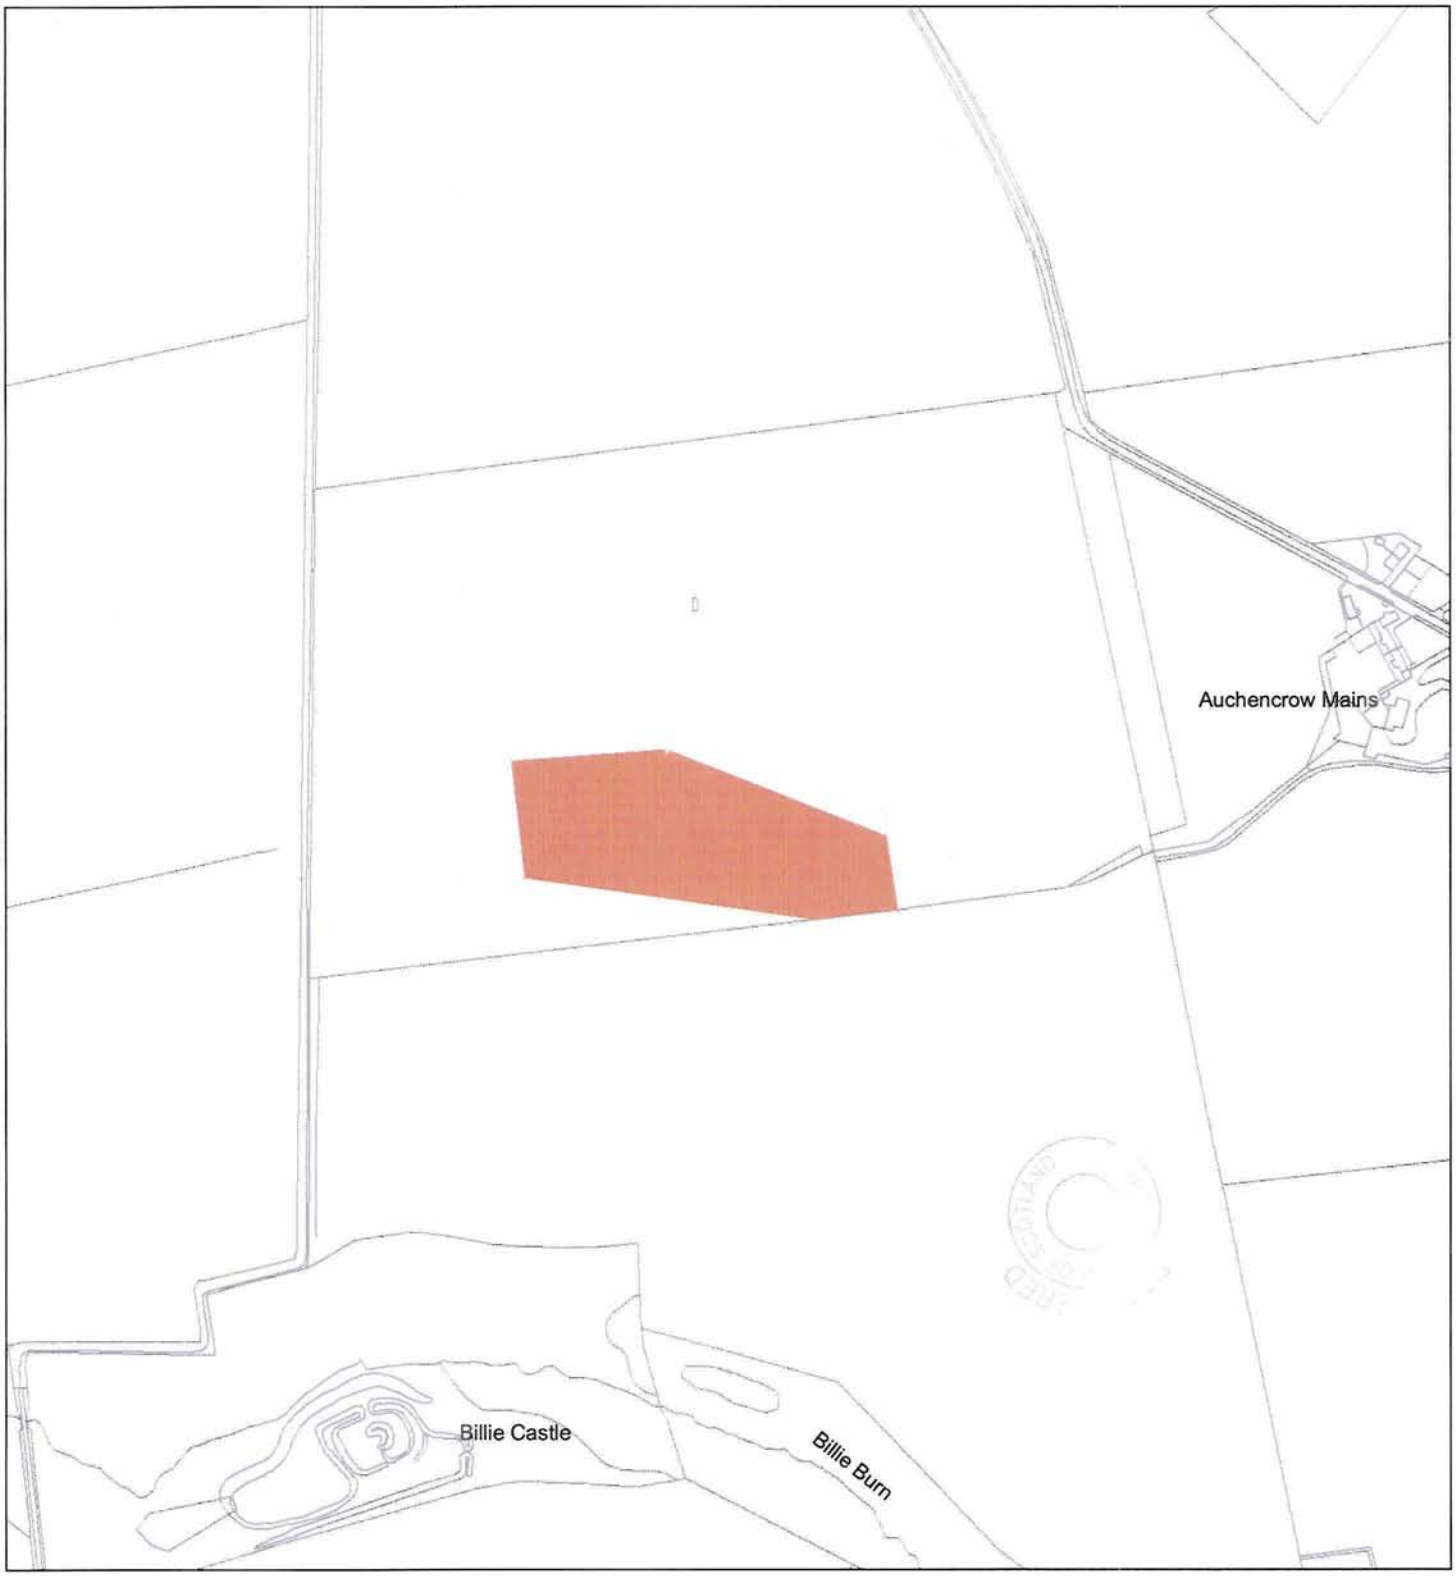

Subscribed by Malcolm Cooper, Chief Inspector with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 31 day of March Two thousand and nine, before this witness Luke Wormald, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
