ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Loch of Clunie, crannog 450m NNE of Clunie Castle comprises a small crannog, an artifical island probably of the prehistoric period, on which a house would have been erected. It measures about 12m in diameter; it is only rarely visible above the surface of the Loch. The area to be scheduled measures 50m in diameter, centred on the crannog, to include the crannog and an area around it in which material and structures associated with the crannog and its use may survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Clunie and the County of Perth as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Secretary of State for Scotland to be of national importance compiled and maintained by him under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Given under the Seal of the Secretary of State for Scotland.
