THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 5514
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Old Glennan, standing stone 60m N of, and cairns 50m & 125m NW of comprises three cairns and a standing stone of Neolithic or Bronze Age date (some time between 4000 and 1000 BC). The monument survives as three turf-covered mounds of stone within a later enclosure and a single standing stone incorporated into the line of a later wall. The easternmost cairn is the largest, measuring approximately 28m in diameter and standing up to 1m high. The northernmost cairn is approximately 11.5m in diameter and stands 1.5m high, while the southern cairn is 6.5m in diameter and 0.8m high. The standing stone, aligned NNE-SSW, measures 1.2m by 0.5m at its base and tapers to a pointed top at a height of 2.2m. The monument is of particular interest as a well preserved group of associated burial and ritual monuments in a landscape rich in such monuments. It is located on grazing land at 50m above sea level on the valley floor, southwest of Loch Ederline. The area to be scheduled is irregular on plan, comprising four circles (two of them interlocking) centred on the centres of the individual features. The circle round the easternmost cairn is 40m in diameter; the circles round the other two cairns are 22m (northernmost) and 18m in diameter; and the circle round the standing stone is 10m in diameter. These circles include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment may survive. Specifically excluded from the scheduling is the top 30cm of the adjoining metalled surface of a road to allow for its maintenance. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Kilmartin and the County of Argyll as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto and which forms part of the subjects registered in the Land [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Creaganterve Beg, cairns, standing stone and farmstead 550m SSW of as referred to in the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments by the Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 11 January 1993 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Argyll on 14 April 1993.

Subscribed by Olwyn Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 19 day of March Two thousand and thirteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
