THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 6135
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Hillside, barrow and settlement 140m SE of Oakbank comprises the remains of a prehistoric or early historic barrow (a burial monument) and an unenclosed settlement dating probably from the Iron Age (around 500 BC to AD 500). The remains lie buried beneath the ploughsoil and are visible as cropmarks captured on oblique aerial photographs. The monument lies on a slight rise in undulating ground at around 20m OD. The scheduled area is rectangular on plan measuring 95m NNW-SSE by 60m transversely to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. The scheduling specifically excludes the above-ground elements of a post-and-wire fence. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Montrose and the County of Angus as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Dryleys, ring ditch 350m NW of as referred to in the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments by the Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 14 November 1994 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Angus on 17 March 1995.

Subscribed by Olwyn A Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 8th day of July Two thousand and fifteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
