THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 6201
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Carledubs, unenclosed settlement, 275m NE of 30 Carledubs Crescent comprises the remains of an unenclosed prehistoric settlement visible as cropmarks captured on oblique aerial photographs. The settlement is likely to date to the Late Bronze Age or Iron Age (c 1800 BC – AD 400). The cropmarks indicate the presence of three roundhouse structures, a possible sunken-floored building, a round barrow and a number of pits. Two of the roundhouses are typical in size and form to other known examples. Both roundhouses comprise a penannular gully measuring 1-1.5m wide with an approximate external diameter of 11m; a gap in the S arc of each indicates the likely position of the entrance. To the NE of these structures are several pits ranging from 1-2m in diameter. The third roundhouse lies to the S and is much smaller, with an overall diameter of 7.5m. The sunken-floored building is sub-rectangular, measuring 8m NE-SW by approximately 3m. The round barrow is situated to the NE of the settlement and comprises a ring ditch measuring 4.5m in diameter, with a gap on the N arc. The settlement is on locally high ground at 125m above sea-level and commands extensive views in all directions, but particularly along the Forth Valley and across the Lothians. The scheduled area is irregular on plan to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Uphall and the County of West Lothian as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative
