THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 6748
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Easter Kilwhiss, enclosure 820m SSE of comprises the remains of a circular enclosure, interpreted as a henge, a ritual and ceremonial site likely to date to the Neolithic period (sometime between 4500 BC to 2500 BC). The monument is visible as a cropmark captured on oblique aerial photographs and survives as buried remains below the plough soil. The substantial ditch is approximately 5m wide and encloses a circular space approximately 20m in diameter. A break in the NE arc of the ditch is probably an entrance. A number of smaller features can be seen in the henge interior and immediately to the SE, which probably represent pits or burials. The monument is located on fairly flat, low-lying arable land to the N of the River Eden, at 45m above sea level. The scheduled area is circular on plan, 70m in diameter, to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Collessie and the County of Fife as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

This entry supersedes the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments for the monument known then as Shiells, henge 850m N of as referred to in the Entry in the Schedule of Monuments by the Secretary of State for Scotland in respect of the monument dated 30 May 1997 and recorded in the General Register of Sasines for the County of Fife on 21 July 1997.

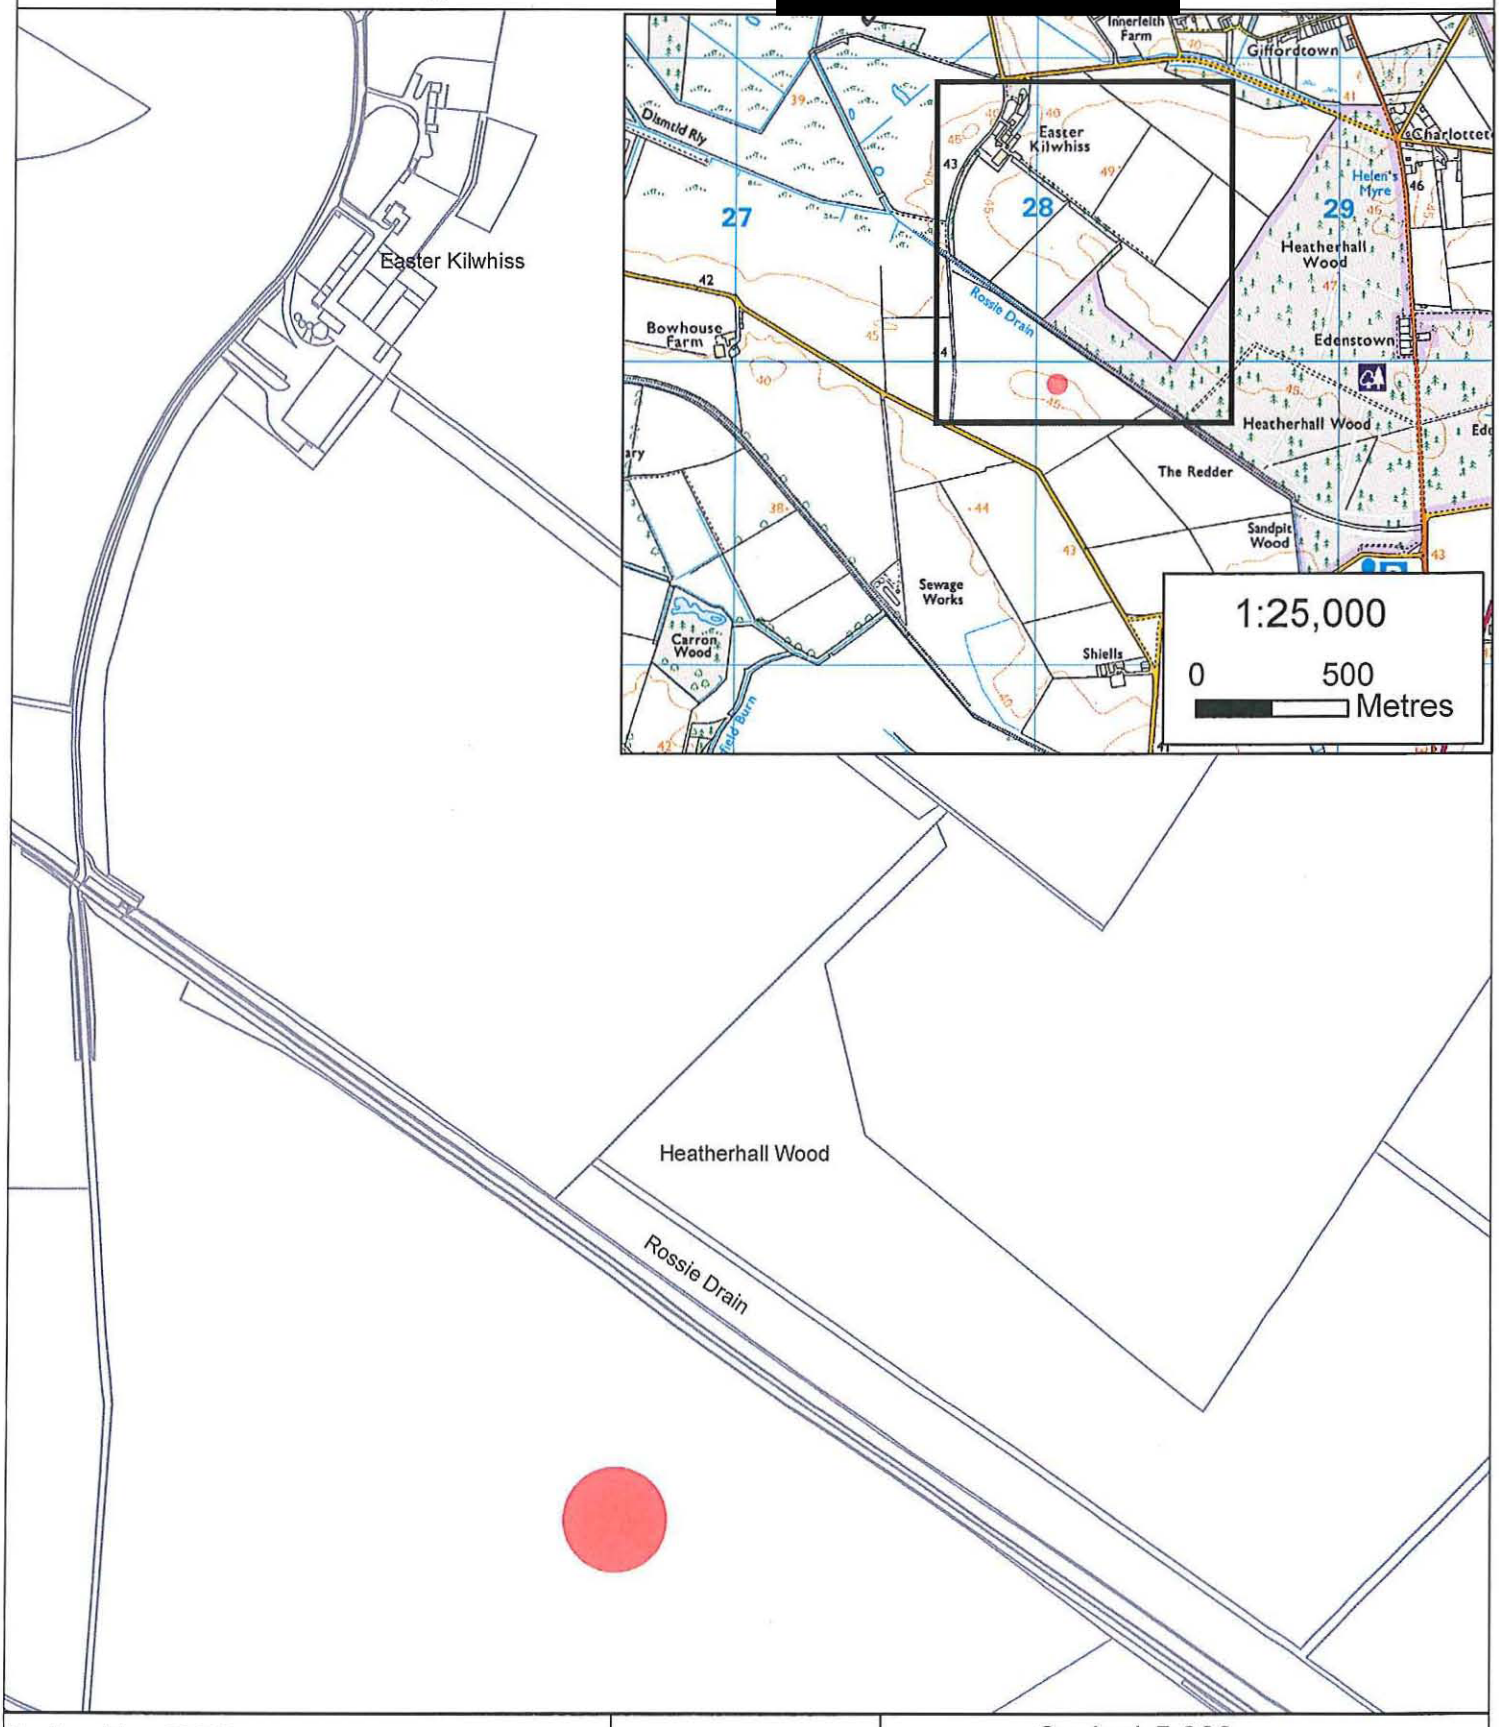

Subscribed by Olwyn A Owen, Head of Scheduling, Marine and Battlefields with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 13th day of December Two thousand and thirteen, before this witness Christine Kelly, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
