The monument known as Edingham Munitions Factory comprises parts of a well-preserved example of a World War II explosives factory, with buildings and earthworks. The areas to be scheduled are 1. Nitrating plant, at grid reference NX84056280 - four brick and concrete structures built within massive earthen banks, accessed by brick and concrete tunnels. 2. Magazines, at NX84406225 - long, narrow brick and concrete structures built then covered with earth mounds to form safe underground storage for unstable explosives: many of the doors and fixtures still survive. (Divided into areas 2a and 2b.) 3. Small scale processing sheds, at NX8446285 and NX85006325. Wedge-shaped single storey brick buildings, lighted by small-pane windows high in the front elevation, over a concrete walkway. Doors, windows and some fixtures survive intact. Mostly single pile, but one double-pile building, with a flat roof. (Two separate groups, areas 3a and 3b.) 4. Viaduct, at NX84876293. 5. Batch processing plants, at NX85006365. 6. Three brick-built pillboxes defending the N perimeter of the site, at NX84046312, NX84346302 and NX84596366. (Areas 6a, 6b and 6c respectively.) The area to be scheduled encompasses the aforementioned visible remains and an area around them in which traces of associated activity may be expected to survive. It is divided into 10 unequal areas. The area around the nitrating plant (1) is irregular in shape with maximum dimensions of 250m NNW-SSE by 130m WSW-ENE. The area around the magazines (2a and 2b) is irregular in shape with maximum dimensions of 470m NNW-SSE by 330m NE-SW, excluding the new road, which divides this area into two. The area around the westernmost small scale processing shed (3a) is irregular in shape with maximum dimensions of 230m SW-NE by 150m WNW-ESE. The area around the easternmost small scale processing plant (3b) is sub-rectangular with maximum dimensions of 110m N-S by 100m E-W. The area around the viaduct (4) is circular with a diameter of 85m. The area around the batch processing plants (5) is irregular in shape with maximum dimensions of 160m N-S by 80m E-W. The area around the westernmost pillbox (6a) is circular with a diameter of 40m. The area around the middle pillbox (6b) is circular with a diameter of 30m. The area around the easternmost pillbox (6c) is circular with a diameter of 30m. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Dalbeattie and the County of Kirkcudbright as shown outlined in red and numbered on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto and
