THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Antonine Wall, Antonine Road to Rosslyn Road comprises a section of the Antonine Wall which runs down the E slope of Castle Hill. The Antonine Wall at this location consists of the rampart, the ditch, the berm (area between rampart and ditch) and the upcast mound. The area to be scheduled consists of two distinct sections: the W section measures 27m WNW-ESE by 19m NNW-SSE, while the E area measures a maximum of 250m from its W end to its E end by a maximum of 30m N-S, to include the Antonine Wall rampart, berm, ditch and upcast mound and an area to the N and S where traces of activities associated with the construction and use of the monument may survive. In relation to the W area, its edges are defined by the roads and boundaries of the plots of neighbouring houses. The boundaries of the E scheduled area are also defined by the edges of housing plots, except in the central section of the S boundary, where the area extends 20m beyond the position of the S face of the rampart to include Roman-period deposits which are likely to survive in this area; the military way may also lie within this 20m zone. The electrical transformer is excluded from the scheduled area. The monument, which lies in the Parish of New Kilpatrick and the County of Dumbarton as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto

[REDACTED] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Secretary of State for Scotland to be of national importance compiled and maintained by him under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.
