THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Abercorn Church, carved stones in Session House comprises a collection of carved stones displayed in the Session House of Abercorn Church: 2 hog-backed recumbent stones, one carved from white sandstone, the other broken, vertically into two pieces; a cross shaft carved from white sandstone and set in a concrete base; two cross slabs, one with a chamfered edge all round and displaying an elaborate cross in bas-relief, the other being damaged at one corner with the obverse being carved with a cross having an ornate circular head and a three-stepped calvary; two pieces of a cross shaft, the larger portion of which forms the incomplete lower part of the cross divided into three panels and the smaller portion forming the incomplete upper part of the cross. The area to be scheduled is rectangular in shape and measures 8m N-S by 6m E-W. Included in the scheduled area are the six stones listed above. Excluded from the scheduling is the fabric of the Session House in which the stones are displayed and the wooden plinths on which they sit. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Abercorn and the County of West Lothian as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Secretary of State for Scotland to be of national importance compiled and maintained by him under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Given under the Seal of the Secretary of State for Scotland.
