THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 7551
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Antonine Wall and Military Way, 515m N of Crofthead Cottage comprises a stretch of the Antonine Wall surviving as buried remains of the ditch, berm, rampart and military way. Remains of the military way and foundations of the rampart have been located through excavations while cropmarks of buried remains of the ditch appear on aerial photographs. Approximately 575m in length, this stretch of the Antonine Wall runs on a broadly E-W course through pasture from the A807 road to the south of Hungryside Bridge, along a ridge and crossing into the grounds of the Marley-Eternit factory, where it tapers in towards the Forth and Clyde Canal. The military way shadows the line of the frontier before turning south-west to bypass the fort at Cadder. The area to be scheduled is irregular on plan, to include the remains described and an area around them within which related material may be expected to be found. To allow for their maintenance, the scheduling specifically excludes the upper 300mm of all paths, driveways and hardstandings, and the above-ground elements of all post-and-wire fences, metal fences, and gates. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Cadder and the County of Glasgow as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted], is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Deborah Mays, Deputy Chief Inspector with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 31st day of March Two thousand and eleven, before this witness Victoria Murray, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
