ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Newgord, rectangular house and field system SE of Loch of Quoy, Unst comprises the remains of a house of probable Viking or Norse-Medieval date, together with part of its associated field system. The area to be scheduled is a square of side 50m, aligned NNW-SSE. The S corner of the area lies at a point measured 20m at right angles from the S side of each of the two modern fences which have their junction within the area to be scheduled. This area includes the house, outbuilding and the better preserved parts of the early field walls as well as an area around these features in which traces of activity relating to their construction and use may survive. The modern fences are excluded from scheduling to simplify maintenance. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Unst and the County of Shetland as shown outlined in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Secretary of State for Scotland to be of national importance compiled and maintained by him under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.
