ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Gardie, house and field system 650m N of Little Heog, Unst comprises the remains of a Norse farmstead, including a longhouse and field system, in use probably some time between AD 900 and 1400. The monument lies at 20m over sea level on a gentle NE-facing slope at the foot of Little Heog, overlooking Gardie and Haroldswick. The area to be scheduled is irregular on plan, to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment may survive. The above-ground elements of the modern stone dykes within the scheduled area are excluded in order to facilitate their maintenance. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Unst and the County of Orkney and Zetland as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto and which forms part [redacted] is hereby included in the Schedule of Monuments appearing to the Scottish Ministers to be of national importance compiled and maintained by them under section 1(1) of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Subscribed by Barbara Cummins, Director of Heritage Management with Historic Scotland, being an officer of the Scottish Ministers at Edinburgh on the 28 day of August Two thousand and twelve, before this witness Victoria Murray, of Longmore House, Salisbury Place, Edinburgh.
