THE ANCIENT MONUMENTS AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL AREAS ACT 1979 8776
ENTRY IN THE SCHEDULE OF MONUMENTS

The monument known as Nunraw Barns, palisaded enclosure 180m SSW of comprises the remains of a prehistoric palisaded settlement dating probably from the Late Bronze Age or Iron Age (between about 1200 BC and AD 400). The settlement lies buried beneath the plough soil and is visible as cropmarks captured on oblique aerial photographs. The cropmarks show the eastern half of an enclosure that was probably oval or sub-rectangular on plan and measures 60m N-S. The enclosure is marked by two narrow ditches, each around 1m wide and lying between 3m and 4.5m apart. Investigation by geophysical survey reveals that these palisade trenches run parallel to each other on the S, but diverge slightly on the W where a staggered gap in the ditches may represent an entrance. A closely spaced line of posts would have been placed within the palisade trenches. The monument occupies a NE -facing slope on arable farming land, 5km NE of Gifford at around 185m above OD. The scheduled area is circular on plan. It measures 90m in diameter, and is centred on the middle of the enclosure, to include the remains described above and an area around them within which evidence relating to the monument's construction, use and abandonment is expected to survive. The monument, which lies in the Parish of Garvald and Barra and the County of East Lothian as shown in red on the Plan annexed and executed as relative hereto
